their own child care business and by providing them with child development trainings. The Department also conducts site visits to child care microenterprises ensuring that high-quality and nutritious meals are being served through the Child Care Provider Food Program.

Child Care Food Program

Over 800 healthy and nutritious meals and snacks are provided daily to low and moderate income children in San Francisco through our federally funded Child Care Provider Food Program. We support over 120 family child care microenterprises by reimbursing for qualifying meals/snacks. Additionally, we provide yearly training to providers on proper and safe food handling, USDA food pyramid guidelines, ensuring good physical activity, and age appropriate meals and food options for children.

Child Care Provider Training Program

Wu Yee's Provider Training program works with child care providers to establish their own child care business and to support newly licensed facilities with the best child care business practices. Because understanding the state licensing regulations is difficult for monolingual Cantonese speakers, our bilingual training and assistance fills a unique void to support these providers.
