Organization's Primary Exempt Purpose

Serving women with cancer through community outreach and education.

The WCRC's services and programs are tailored to the needs of diverse populations of women and delivered with cultural competence by staff and volunteers who reflect the populations they are serving. Each year, the WCRC serves 5,000 women with cancer and their supporters and provides community outreach and education to more than 15,000 people.

To achieve its mission, the Center provides the following free of charge:

Organization's Primary Exempt Purpose

Information - a variety of informational programs include information and referral help lines in Spanish and English, a comprehensive lending library and multicultural outreach programs for African American, Latina and un- and under-insured women.

Services - direct services include a practical in-home (one-to-one) support program, psychotherapy, and emergency financial assistance for low income women.

Support - support programs include support groups, peer referral, and the "Sister to Sister" program that provides a forum and support group for African American women.

Education and Activism - provides a variety of education forums and workshops on diverse topics; collaborates with community partners to identify and address gaps in cancer services; advocates for access to health services for all women; and offers revolving exhibits of local artists which link art, the community and health in a powerful way.

Support, Education & Access to Care
- Information & Referral Helpline - in English and Spanish, links women with cancer to medical and supportive services. This is how many clients access WCRC's other services.
- Support Groups - Six support groups are held at the center.
- In-Home Support Services (Betts Program) - Volunteers help clients at home with rides to doctors' offices, grocery shopping, laundry and other practical tasks, as well as emotional support to those who feel isolated.
- Peer Referral Network - links women with cancer to women with a similar medical diagnosis, ethnic background, language, sexual orientation, and/or treatment choices.
- Celebration of Life - annual events to acknowledge survival. One for African American/Black women, one for Spanish speaking women, and in 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009, a third end-of-year event at the Center for all women.
- Breast Cancer Retreat - for low-income African American/Black women with breast cancer.
- Cancer Emergency Funds - Three funds provide financial assistance (up to $600 each) to low-income women with cancer in Alameda and Contra Costa Counties: (1) East Bay Breast Cancer Emergency Fund, from Friends of Faith; (2) Avon Breast Cancer Fund, from the Avon Foundation and serving Spanish-speaking women in Alameda County; and (3) Spanish Speaking Women's Cancer Initiative (SSWCI) Emergency Fund serving Spanish speaking women in Contra Costa County diagnosed

Description	0. Grants	Program Service Expenses
Information and Referral The Center operates Information and Referral help lines in English and in Spanish, which link women with cancer to medical and supportive services. The center also coordinates a peer referral network that links women with cancer to women with a similar medical diagnosis, ethnic background, language, sexual orientation, and/or treatment choices; conducts 6 support groups; and provides financial assistance to low-income women with cancer in Alameda and Contra Costa counties. The funds provide up to $600 per each woman to help with basic living needs. More than 20,000 people visit the Center bilingual website annually which provides cancer news, links to resources, and information about activities at the Center.
Awareness & Early Detection Through attendance at health fairs and other community events the WCRC promotes awareness of cancer and early detection, provides information on the WCRC and other community resources, and recruits volunteers. Early detection outreach includes providing information on and linkage to screening and how to perform Breast Self-Exams (BSE). Outreach and education reaches approximately 15,000 people annually. Another 3,000 people are reached monthly through the WCRC e-newsletter and 20,000 annually through the WCRC website (in both English and Spanish), both of which provide cancer news and links to resources and information. Includes Foreign Grants: No		111,237.
Community Outreach and Education The Center conducts workshops in English and Spanish for women diagnosed with cancer and their partners dealing with treatment issues such as side effects, and workshops on early detection and screening for various cancers, produces and distributes an e-bulletin newsletter mailed
