Part VI, Section A, Line 10

CPA performs annual bookkeeping, performing bank reconciliations and adjusting journal entries.

CPA confirms asset purchases and updates depreciation schedule periodically throughout year.

After all account balances have been confirmed, with outside independent third parties, the CPA prepares the Forms 990.

The return is reviewed by the CPA again before they are copied for the taxpayer and IRS. The corporation's board is given a copy to review before an officer signs and submits the final copy to the local IRS Service Center.

Part VI, Section B, Line 15b

All officers are volunteers and do not receive compensation for their services.

Part VI, Section C, Line 19

The organization has its governing documents and tax returns available upon request. They are not available via any other outlet. The corporation does not possess a written conflict of interest policy.

Financial statements are not prepared primarily because: (1) there cost outweighs the benefit provided, and (2) financial information is readily available to the board members throughout the year. With no outstanding debts, and no bankers involved, having financial statements prepared is not a necessity.
