Additional Information

The mission of Yad Yaakov is to bring together individuals to explore issues concerning their personal and professional lives through the study of traditional Jewish texts. Yad Yaakov is committed to weaving a fabric for a more spiritual, tolerant and idealistic society in the United States, Israel and the world through the use of these texts. Yad Yaakov has funded programs in Israel, the United States and other countries which help individuals explore the classical Jewish sources and relate their relevancy to modern Jewish life.

Yad Yaakov runs programs to help Jewish Education in the United States. It includes lectures by visiting scholars, working with Jewish institutions and live broadcasts of interactive Internet classes. It works on programs for curriculum development in the United States and Israel. We visit about ten communities each year and present lectures for the public, participate in national conferences for Jewish educators and run and sponsor about ten Internet classes each year. Attendance at our lecture series is at least 500 adults and our internet classes serve approximately 40 students.

Yad Yaakov has provided funds to Yad Yaakov Fund in Israel (YYFIS) to provide classes for adults, children, senior citizens and others. Adult classes reach over one hundred and fifty participants. It runs programs in about thirteen schools with hundreds of students. Its programs include weekend retreats and lecture series as well. It also run a special program for youth in distress.

YYFIS runs a program in Israel to train people to do this kind of work. The program is centered in Jerusalem and includes pastoral training and visits as educators to the United States. It currently has fifty students in the program.
