The Foundation monitors and enforces its Conflicts of Interest Policy by, at least annually, having each officer, member of the Board of Trustees, and key employees attest by signature that they have read, understand, and are in compliance with the policy. On an annual basis, the Board is provided a copy of the policy, offered an opportunity to discuss its requirements, and have any questions answered. Staff attends the meetings of the board in order to monitor compliance with the requirements and that the minutes of the meetings fairly represent the discussions of the Board.

Part VI, Line 15b:

The American Bankers Association Education Foundation (ABAEF) has no employees. Key employees shown on Part VII, Section A, are employees of the related organization, American Bankers Association (ABA). The Compensation Committee of the American Bankers Association is responsible for reviewing the compensation of the Foundation's top management officers and key employees. The process used by the ABA's Compensation Committee is made in conjunction with an outside independent consulting firm that conducted a comprehensive compensation study in 2008 for the Association. The methodology used included the following:

- Utilizing salary surveys, including those from Mercer, Watson Wyatt, PRM Consulting, and ASAE, jobs were benchmarked to comparable positions.
- The outside compensation consulting firm reviewed applicable market data and the benchmarked position information and developed a market-based pay structure.
- Additional factors considered were position requirements, organizational impact, and job complexity.
- Minutes are kept of the compensation committee's deliberations and decisions regarding compensation arrangements.

Part VI, Line 19:

The Foundation does not make its governing documents, conflict of interest policy, or its financial statements available to the public. The Foundation's Form 990 is available for public inspection upon request.
