PAGE 1, PART I: MISSION

DC Public Education Fund's mission is to dramatically improve student achievement in the District of Columbia by serving as a strategic partner to businesses, foundations, community leaders, and individual donors in supporting and investing in high-impact programs with the District of Columbia Public Schools. This work includes attracting critical funding resources, managing key public-private partnerships, and acting as fiscal sponsor for all grants made on behalf of DC Public Schools.

Human Capital: $444,756

Attract and retain the most highly effective educators in the country, develop them, and compensate them well. Supported initiatives include:

- IMPACT: DCPEF is providing training and other resources to support implementation of this pioneering school-based personnel evaluation system, which provides school-based personnel with a clear understanding of what defines excellence in their work along with constructive and data-based feedback about their performance and a variety of supports to increase their effectiveness.
- Anchor Assignments: DCPEF is providing materials and other resources to expand this model of planning, grading, and reflecting on common assessments to more schools across the District.

Compelling Schools: $186,018

Create schools that provide a consistent foundation in academics, strong support for social and emotional needs, and a variety of challenging programs and appealing themes. Supported initiatives include:

- DC Catalyst Project: DCPEF is providing professional development, materials, and central office support to help transform schools through themes integration.
- Reggio Emilia Program at Scott Montgomery: DCPEF is supplying materials and professional development to support implementation of an early childhood program encouraging learning through exploration, art, and self-directed play.

Data and Accountability: $111,682

Support decision-making with accurate information about how students are performing and how the district as a whole is performing. Supported initiatives include:

- Office of Data and Accountability Strategic Planning: DCPEF is providing resources to build The Office of Data and Accountability's capacity to respond quickly to changing demands and deliver on its responsibility to support DCPS educators with data and tools.

- School-Based Data Capacity Building: DCPEF is providing for the Office of Data and Accountability and the Office of the Chief Academic Officer to engage with The Achievement Network, a Boston-based not-for-profit organization that works directly with schools, to provide schools with tools and activities, such as assessments to measure student learning against DCPS standards, coaching for teachers on how to effectively use data to structure their lessons, and procedures to embed data-driven practice as a consistent part of schools' everyday routine, that will help teachers better use data to raise student achievement.
- School Scorecards: DCPEF has supported data analysis key to developing school scorecards, a tool that combines quantitative and qualitative measures to offer a comprehensive and nuanced view of school performance, which will be a template for communicating school performance data to DCPS constituents, thereby improving transparency and accountability in DCPS.

SCHEDULE I: PART I, LINE 2

DCPEF plays a critical role in working with DCPS to ensure that privately funded initiatives and projects are managed with the accountability and oversight necessary to maximize impact on student achievement. As the fiduciary for contributions provided to benefit DCPS, DCPEF monitors the use of grant funds closely and provides status updates to both private donors and DCPS.

DCPEF adds significant value in its fiduciary role by conducting due diligence, fostering partnerships, supporting implementation, and facilitating communication and evaluation. In monitoring expenditures, DCPEF provides project cash flow management and third-party contract administration, where appropriate. Additionally, DCPEF ensures that grant restrictions and grant agreement terms are met, tracks progress toward milestones and project outcomes, and assumes responsibility for reporting and evaluation functions.

DCPEF maintains tight controls over its disbursements process to ensure funds are used effectively and in accordance with grant terms. Disbursements processed for payments require sign off from the relevant DCPS program administrator and DCPEF Executive Director. A disbursement form (along with all related paperwork) is sent to our external accountants, Lane & Company, to enter into the accounting system and cut a check, then forwarded to DCPEF Treasurer to sign checks. The DCPEF Treasurer sends signed checks and paperwork to DCPEF management. Checks are mailed to vendors along with a photocopy of the invoice and paperwork is returned to Lane & Company for filing.

In addition to its tight front end controls, DCPEF management meets monthly with Lane & Company to review financial reports, including data on revenues/expenses by program and coding for all recent revenues/expenses.

Finally, DCPEF management communicates frequently with DCPS to receive progress reports on supported programs; these meetings often include reports on expenses and grant balances that are provided by Lane & Company.

SCHEDULE I, PART II, LINE 1h

In FY09, DCPEF raised funds and facilitated public-private partnerships to support a select set of high-impact programs in DCPS. These programs primarily fell under three reform areas that we believe have the greatest potential to raise student achievement and improve student outcomes in the District: Human Capital, Data and Accountability, and Compelling and Effective Schools.

Human Capital programs seek to attract and retain the most highly effective educators in the country, develop them, and compensate them well. Data and Accountability programs seek to support decision-making with accurate information about how students are performing and how the district as a whole is performing. Compelling Schools programs seek to create schools that provide a consistent foundation in academics, strong support for social and emotional needs, and a variety of challenging programs and appealing themes.

For all of these programs, DCPEF provided in kind services and materials on behalf of DCPS, as opposed to sub-granting funds directly into DCPS. This relationship provides appropriate oversight on disbursements and ensures accountability for all parties.

PAGE 6, PART VI, SECTION B, LINE 15: COMPENSATION

The board meets to review the President's performance and compensation on an annual basis.

It is based on a review against her annual performance goals which the president prepares and submits at the first meeting of the fiscal year for the board. The President presents progress against her goals on a quarterly basis at each board meeting and reviews a performance dashboard in greater depth with the Strategy and Compensation Committee between board meetings. At the conclusion of the fiscal year the President performs a self-assessment and the Strategy and Compensation Committee performs a performance review, which includes input from employees and other board members.

The Strategy and Compensation Committee then submits to the board (in executive session) the President's performance review and a recommendation for any adjustments to compensation. The board holds a discussion on performance and compensation and votes on future compensation based on the financial position of the organization, the overall evaluation results, and comparability data pulled from Professionals for Non-Profits annual survey. An overall performance assessment is then delivered by the board chair to the president, along with notice of any compensation adjustment.

The President follows a similar deliberation process for evaluating and adjusting compensation for her direct reports, with input and sign-off by the Strategy and Compensation Committee.

Schedule I, Part II, line 1g

As the fiscal sponsor for contributions provided to benefit DCPS, DCPEF provides in-kind services and materials to support a range of select, high-impact initiatives in DCPS. The non-cash assistance that DCPEF provides to DCPS takes a variety of forms, including but not limited to classroom resources, professional development, and external consultants.

In fiscal year 2009, DCPEF provided non-cash assistance as opposed to sub-granting funds directly into DCPS so as to provide appropriate oversight and accountability, ensuring that funds were expended according to donors' wishes. In a fairly typical case, we managed a grant to provide additional classroom resources and out-of-school experiences to benefit student learning at an individual DCPS school. Rather than deposit funds directly into the school's budget and therefore lose oversight of the spending process, the school sent us disbursement requests, which we facilitated. We then reported back to the donor at the end of the grant term. This arrangement worked well for all parties -- the donor was comforted knowing that the grant funds were spent according to grant terms, the school was happy to receive extra resources to benefit student learning, and we were pleased to facilitate this arrangement.

Ultimately, DCPEF must ensure accountability for grant funds and support programs that are having a positive impact on student achievement while minimizing the administrative burden on DCPS staff. Providing non-cash assistance is the best way to achieve these goals.
