All volunteers (which are usually ASRT members, but not required to be except in certain circumstances such as specific committees) are required to sign the same form when they begin volunteering. For staff, the conflict of interest policy is included in the HR manual which states that they are to avoid any conflicts of interest. It also requires the employee to immediately inform their director if they or their immediate family has a conflict of interest. Each employee signs a form that acknowledges that they have received the HR manual when they are hired. The HR manual is also available on our intranet, but the employees are not required to sign anything further.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 15		Data on compensation for the CEO, CFO, COO and the CCMO positions at organizations similar to ASRT is gathered from several sources. These sources include CEO Update Executive Compensation in Associations survey and the Guidestar National Compensation Report which are used as a starting point for an extensive review of 990 information on similar organizations. As an additional comparative the Association Compensation and Benefits Study produced by ASAE & the Center for Association Leadership is used. A report on the information along with the data is provided to the board of directors for their review. The board of directors takes direct compensation action on the CEO. The CEO is responsible for direct compensation decisions for the CFO, COO and CCMO. Formal documentation of the discussions and decisions of the board of directors is maintained to include a rebuttable presumption checklist for the CEO position. The Chairman of the board provides a copy of this documentation and communicates the decision on CEO compensation changes to the COO who generates a compensation change notice for their signature. The CEO provides documentation of any compensation change of a staff member in a formal letter to them.
