Procedure for Monitoring Grants in the U S		Schedule I, Part I, Line 2 NWP uses a multiplicity of monitoring methods for keeping track of its grant recipients and the grant deliverables to ensure the grant funds are used for proper purposes. One primary method is an annual reporting cycle made up of financial, statistical, and narrative details outlining what was accomplished with each year's grant funding. In addition, NWP has a team of people engaged in technical assistance that includes monitoring of grant recipients' activities as well as their A-133 single audit reporting. It also sometimes includes site visits targeted at recipients needing more in-depth support, which could include additional specialized training for recipient-institution personnel.
