Health & Wellness ProgramsThe mission of the YMCA of Greater Providence is to build healthy spirit, mind and body for all, through programs, services and relationships that are based upon our core values of caring, honesty, respect and responsibility. This work is carried out primarily through the delivery of high quality activities to community members at our seven full service branches, urban outreach program, and resident camp. It is our policy to serve individuals and families regardless of their ability to pay. Many of the programs at the YMCA are designed to address broad health issues throughout the community. Our LIVESTRONG at the YMCA initiative, for example, helps cancer survivors build strength and stamina after their treatment so they can get back to living. The Commit to Quit Program challenges smokers to break their habit so they can adopt healthy lifestyles and prevent the multitude of illnesses resulting from long-term tobacco addiction. The Y On the Move Program engages young people in physical fitness and wellness to help combat the epidemic of childhood obesity. The YMCA continues to serve as a community leader in public safety programs and initiatives. As the primary provider of Aquatics training, including Lifeguard preparation, as well as first aid/CPR, nutrition education, and fitness and exercise instruction, the YMCA is an essential resource in keeping communities healthy and well and preventing injury and other damage. More than 62,000 members participated in YMCA programs last year. These people come from all walks of life from young to old and a wide range of socioeconomic backgrounds. Bringing people together from across different settings is part of what makes the YMCA such a unique and welcoming place. Our main target audience is the individual we have come to define as the health seeker. A health seeker is someone who wants to improve his or her health but is not sure of what path to take. The YMCA provides guidance and a plan in a warm and supportive environment so these individuals can identify and achieve their goals. Last year the YMCA of Greater Providence allowed more than $2.0 million in financial assistance to individuals and families who would otherwise not be able to participate in these programs and services. Many of our programs are offered free of charge. For example, in partnership with the Department of Defense, we provide free memberships to families of deployed military personnel through our Military Family Outreach Initiative. Fees for other services, like membership, use a sliding scale system to calculate rates based on income. Part of our mission is to raise community awareness of health and wellness issues while encouraging the participation of at-risk populations. Throughout the course of the year, the YMCA of Greater Providence holds several free events to engage the public in achieving their own personal goals. Each April, Healthy Kids Day provides a series of free health and wellness activities to children and families throughout the community with the goal of helping them find fun, exciting ways to bring fitness into their daily routines. At the same time, through Splash Week, in collaboration with Amica Insurance, the Y offers free swim and water safety lessons for elementary school students throughout the area to ensure they are adequately prepared for the summer months as they play in pools throughout the state and along our many miles of beautiful coastline. We also seek to strengthen the bonds between and among family members. Many of our branches offer family fitness activities and each year we host Healthy Family Home week during which we encourage families to bring fitness into their homes. On the state level, the YMCA of Greater Providence advocates for systemic change along with many community partners as part of our Pioneering Healthy Communities initiative. Collaborating with the RI Department of Health, Departments of Education, leading hospitals, and healthcare providers, the YMCA strives to improve public health policies and help individuals access programs and services to meet their health and wellness needs. Initiatives that have grown out of this collaboration include Shape Up RI and Millions of Minutes.

Childcare/Day CampY Child care programs strengthen the family unit by providing convenient, affordable, accessible child care. The YMCA's high quality child care programs utilize a well-developed curriculum which is delivered by professionally trained staff in safe surroundings. Children are provided a stimulating environment in which they can learn, develop healthy lifestyles, improve their social and emotional skills, and grow to their fullest potential. Child care runs the range from infant and preschool day programs to before and after school care for school age and middle school age children. Out of School Time programming is a cornerstone to the services we provide young people, particularly in urban settings where there is a dearth of learning opportunities outside of the public school classroom. Through a wide range of fundraising activities, the YMCA is able to support families who might not otherwise be able to afford child care. Many of our participating families receive some form of public assistance and the Y itself offers financial assistance and scholarships. We don't believe any child should be turned away from quality child care. Y Day Camp also offers a positive, educational, and supervised alternative for children ages 3-17 during the summer. YMCA camps strive to create a safe and caring community for all participating youth. All children are welcomed and accepted. Every day offers new experiences, the chance to develop new skills and the opportunity to make new friends. The YMCA of Greater Providence offers camps with varied focuses, such as nature, sports, art, theater, music, horseback, computer, gymnastics, and leadership development. All of our programs are designed to encourage group participation, cooperation, build self-confidence and allow children to develop individual interests. Children receive a well-balanced experience, by having both their physical and emotional needs met. YMCA of Greater Providence camps are operated by each of our branches in Rhode Island and nearby Massachusetts and are open to children ages 3 to 17. Many camps offer extended-care options, which make them a great choice for working parents. Our camp staff is made up of individuals committed to making the experience fun, safe and memorable. Our camp staff consists of many year-round child-care staff and college students with pertinent child-care experience and/or education. All YMCA of Greater Providence camp staff members are required to undergo thorough background checks, which include personal and professional reference checks, criminal background checks and child abuse/neglect and/or sexual offender record checks. Camp staff are also first aid and CPR certified, with extensive training, before they serve at camp. YMCA camps are accredited by the American Camping Association and approved by the Rhode Island and Massachusetts Departments of Health. Our camps meet or exceed the requirements of the National YMCA and the American Camping Association.

Resident CampYMCA Camp Fuller is a traditional co-educational summer camp for boys and girls ages 7-16 from all over the world. Our location on Point Judith Salt Pond is ideal for water-based activities as well as many land activities. The camp supports the YMCA mission of building a strong spirit, mind and body through fostering the core values of respect, responsibility, honesty and caring. These values are part of everyday life at camp. Whether living in a cabin, participating in program areas, enjoying the natural environment at camp, or participating in camp-wide activities, our values are always apparent throughout camp life. A wide variety of programs and services are available through the camp all summer long. With its ideal coastal location, Camp Fuller is a leader in delivering sailing instruction and campers are engaged in a host of water-based activities. At the same time, more traditional camping activities are available including arts & crafts and leadership development. Camp Fuller's fundraising activities, mostly focused on generous alumni who know firsthand the benefits of the camp, support families who might not otherwise be able to afford the summer camp experience. Scholarships also help ensure a diverse mix of campers from a variety of socioeconomic backgrounds. Camp Fuller prides itself on a long-standing tradition of cultivating competent and experienced people. Many of our staff members are former campers who have a deep appreciation for camp and would like to share their experience and love for camp with the campers. We hire staff from around the country and around the world to provide diversity and a chance for cultural exchange. A health director, food service director, and on-site director provide leadership, supervision, and necessary health and safety experience. Campers live with their counselors in one of four divisions: two for boys and two for girls. The division consists of seven to nine cabins with typically eight campers and two staff per cabin. The cabins and divisions are important family-like structures. Camp Fuller is accredited by the American Camping Association and approved by the Rhode Island Departments of Health. Fuller meets and exceeds the requirements of the National YMCA and the American Camping Association.
