Project Boost (Building Options and Opportunities for Students) is a program targeted at late elementary and middle school students who have demonstrated academic talent, but come from disadvantaged neighborhoods where they do not have the opportunity to cultivate and enrich this academic quality. Project Boost's goal is to help participating students gain admission to high quality high schools at the end of the 8th grade. To accomplish this goal, the program provides funding to schools earmarked to expose students to cultural enrichment experiences, test preparation services, academic guidance, and community service opportunities. During 2009 over 50 elementary and middle schools were selected for the program. All of the schools serve low-income children from diverse communities.

(Code) (Expenses $ 401,002 including grants of $) (Revenue $)

Charter School Technical Assistance Center. Since the advent of charter legislation in 1998, CEI-PEA has operated the Charter School Technical Assistance Center to support the creation, development and growth of public charter schools in New York City. Over the past 11 years, CEI-PEA has helped create over 30 charter schools. These charter schools have innovative and wide-ranging missions that include modeling best practices in educating children on the autism spectrum to integrating classical education in the K-12 system. While the Technical Assistance Center continues to provide support and guidance to charter school applicants and existing charter schools in New York City and throughout New York State, the work of the Technical Assistance Center has expanded to include the identification strong potential charter school applicants, support services to facilitate the start up and implementation of approved charter schools, facilitation of the charter school coalition to identify emerging challenges and opportunities for charter schools, and spearheading major grant opportunities for consortia of charter schools that will provide financial, programmatic and technological resources. Participating schools need to continue to increase student achievement. In 2009 there were 19 schools served by this program.

(Code) (Expenses $ 205,707 including grants of $) (Revenue $)

CEI-PEA School Networks. In order to create a viable method to exchange best practices and a resource for problem solving, CEI-PEA will organize groups of schools and offer workshops and meetings for school leaders on an as-needed basis. CEI-PEA will host these sessions and assist in providing short-term practical solutions. Typically these networks are organized for schools with common attributes and will be designed to have a mix of both new and experienced school leaders.

(Code) (Expenses $ 1,004,159 including grants of $) (Revenue $ 731,347)

Other Consulting Efforts. CEI-PEA is often called upon to provide leadership development services and other professional consulting services, as is requested throughout the school year by individual public schools and school districts (such as for the Mount Vernon School District). CEI-PEA helps by providing Workshops that cover topics and needs common to the school leader, such as creating effective operating procedures using protocols to generate facilitative leadership, and using data to assess student and classroom performance on an ongoing basis. On-site Support that meet the specific needs of the school administrator. Training on how to use data to evaluate staff performance. Budget Assistance to improve the use of school resources. Mentoring of new staff.
