Facts And Circumstances Test
Regulation 1.170A-9T(f)(3) provides that, notwithstanding an organization's not satisfying the 33 1/3 percent public support test, it can still qualify as a public charity if its public support percentage is normally at least ten(10) percent, and it meets the "facts and circumstances test" In this context it is required that an organization must be so "organized and operated" as to attract new and additional public support on a continuous basis which in turn requires that the organization maintain a continuous and bona fide program for solicitation of funds from the general public Toward that end the organization conducts an ongoing solicitation campaign, encouraging both inter vivos and testamentary gifts For the five(5) year period ended December 31, 2009, the organization received a total of $11,082,170 from 1,780 persons and estates Of the foregoing, 1,525 were $1000 or less, 165 were from $1000 to $10,000, 29 were from $10,001 to $25,000, 34 were from $25,001 to $100,000, and 27 were greater than $100,001 In addition, a portion of each Mason's dues constitute a charitable contribution ($ 50) During the 5 year period there were 269,886 dues payments resulting in charitable contributions amounting to $134,943 In addition to the ten (10) percent and attraction of public support requirements, other factors are taken into account in determining whether an organization is publicly supported First, the higher the ten(10) percent requirement, the lesser the burden in establishing publicly supported nature of the organization through other factors Although the organization's public support percentage is 11.13 %, the regulations provide that if the percentage is low because it receives a high percentage of its total support from "investment income on its endowment funds," such fact will be treated as evidence of compliance if the funds were originally contributed by a government unit or by the general public Since the endowment fund is approximately $25,600,000, and the rate of return is 3.75 percent, the investment income from the endowment amounts to $1,536,000 If this investment income were not included in support, over the five year period ended December 31, 2009, the public support percentage would increase significantly The second factor, sources of support, is met if the organization receives support from a representative number of persons In this context, the fact that the organization does not limit its activities to a particular region (it seeks support throughout New York state), demonstrates its public nature Third, the governing body is composed of individuals who represent the broad interest of the public, and none of whom are disqualified persons In accordance with the regulations the governing body is selected in accordance with its governing documents Fourth, the organization operates a facility that provides a continuum of care for the elderly, including a skilled nursing home, adult care facility as well as independent living retirement community Currently, there are 312 residents in the nursing home, 77 in the adult care facility, and 72 in independent living Based on the foregoing the organization satisfies the ten (10) percent facts and circumstances test

A settlement was reached between the Trustees and the person involved in the diversion whereby $285,000 was paid back in full, and a judgement by confession was signed stating that the remainder of the debt will be repaid over a five-year term, with interest.

They will also determine if the transaction is fair and reasonable to MCC, and will make its decision as to whether to enter into the transaction or agreement. The individual who has a conflict may be present during the final deliberations. A written record of the proceedings will be maintained.
