10,000 new bicycles were given to at-risk children during 2009. Approximately 90 percent of these were given to children through schools (Houston ISD, Hempstead ISD, Waller ISD, Aldine ISD, and Klein ISD), and the remainder were given to children through other charitable organizations.

Part IV Supplemental Information. Complete this part to provide the information required in Part I, line 2, and any other additional information.Part I, Line 2 - Grantmaker's Description of How Grants are Used

Elves & More partners with school officials in the Houston Independent School District (HISD) and with other ISDs in the eight-county Greater Houston Area.

Focusing on children who are at risk, the Charity and ISDs select "feeder patterns" of schools (a High School, and the Middle Schools and Elementary Schools that feed it), and work with administrators and teachers to offer earn-a-bike contracts to all students who want one. Those contracts call for children to improve their performance in at least one of four areas, such as improved academics, improved attendance, improved attitudes and behaviors or greater participation in after-school programs such as tutoring, Saturday school, or mentored programs (like sports). The contracts are aimed at getting children to take a step toward achieving a better education, and a better future in life before the children receive their bicycles. Once children receive their bicycles, they use them for fun, exercise and as basic transportation to and from their homes to participate in after-school sports and other programs where adult mentors help children stay in school and out of trouble.

Form 990, Sch. B - Sch. of Contributors

The contributions reported in Schedule B are considerably lower than those received due to IRS restrictions on how amounts are reported there. The major differences are: (1) in-kind donations of services and facilities are not reported, (2) contributions from related entities and family members are reported separately and (3) contributions are reduced by any benefits provided by the Charity in exchange for such contributions. In addition, donated auction items are not reported as donations in Schedule B and amounts paid to purchase auction items are reduced by the value of such items. This listing below shows donors who would have been listed on Schedule B if their donations had not been excluded from reporting under item 1 above.

Reliant Park/SMG ($205,000), Freeman ($34,037), Continental Airlines ($23,600), 3-Men Movers ($20,850), Jeff Rando ($8,280), LD Systems ($7,500), RoNan Enterprises ($6,199), Glaziers ($5,000).

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a - Program Service Accomplishments

Elves & More focuses on at-risk children throughout Greater Houston and uses new bicycles as the principal way of doing this. Here's how:

Strengthening Education: We partner with Independent School Districts to let children earn bicycles through contracts with their teachers. Teachers set each child's specific goals-such as improved academics, better attendance, more-positive attitudes and participation in after-school activities; Students and their parents sign contracts to meet those goals. As the semester progresses, teachers use the contracts to motivate students. At semester's end, those students who meet their goals are rewarded with new bicycles from Elves & More. Students who participated in our 2009 earn-a-bike program consistently out-performed their peers in academics, attendance and attitudes.

Driving Intervention: In their own neighborhoods, at-risk children have many bad "mentors," such as drug dealers, gang leaders, ex-convicts and those who live lives on welfare or live in the streets. Sadly, they have too few good mentors. With a bike to provide badly needed basic transportation, an at-risk child's world gets much larger. Sure, bikes let kids play, but they also enable them to join after-school programs, attend tutoring classes, go to the library, and participate in church and community center activities of every stripe. At each of these, children encounter caring adult mentors who guide their lives in positive ways, encouraging them to stay in school and out of trouble.

Building Fitness & Health: By providing two wheels to serve as basic transportation and permit participation in after-school programs, our bicycles encourage children to get out and ride, as well as participate in a host of other healthy activities which build muscle, burn fat and improve cardiovascular fitness. Studies show that healthier bodies lead to better performance in school. With more time spent in positive activities, the temptation to engage in drug use, crime and gang participation is greatly reduced, thereby reducing those health risks which plague at-risk kids, too.

100,719 Bicycles to date: During 2009, Elves & More gave 10,000 new bicycles to at-risk children, bringing its cumulative total of bicycles to 100,719 bicycles since the program's inception in 2000.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 11 - Form 990 Review Process

The President reviews the Form 990 and provides a copy to board members before filing.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 12c - Explanation of Monitoring and Enforcement of Conflicts

The conflict of interest policy is monitored by careful scrutiny of the Charity's transactions by the Executive Director, a treasury staff member and a separate accounting staff member. In addition, for key transactions, the President is involved in the selection of vendors and the establishment of terms, and for the most significant transactions, either the Executive Committee (of the Board) or full Board approval is provided. Finally, the Charity obtains independent audits from a third-party auditor who has access to the full Board of Directors.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 15b - Compensation Review & Approval Process for Officers & Key Employees

Elves & More does not compensate any officers. It does compensate its Executive Director following the process described below:

1. Information is gathered from Board Members (primarily) and other charities about comparable compensation for persons serving in a similar capacity in other charitable organizations and in commercial businesses.
2. The performance of the individual is assessed by the President and key board members.
3. The capabilities and needs of the Charity are assessed
4. The proposed salary is presented to the board for approval, and the salary is set.
