Letters of Inquiry

The Kumin Foundation has passions! We focus on Alaska within these passions. We would like to hear from 501(c)(3) organizations who can address our passions with synergy, activism and energy. We hope to open opportunities for organizational risk taking, cohesion and expression of cultures and interweaving arts, education, service and recreation. Our passions, in no particular order, are: visual arts, classical music, opera, jazz, education, literacy, wetlands, architecture, rural/urban issues, sailing, cross country skiing, trails for recreation, recognizing the innate dignity and humanity of every person and homeless issues.

Letters of Inquiry should describe your proposed project and how it will forward your organization's goals. Please address proposed funding, anticipated leverage and why you think the Kumin Foundation would be a good match for this proposal.

Letters of Inquiry should not exceed two pages and are accepted on a rolling basis. Submit electronically to kuminak@gci.net. You may attach a brochure or link to a website. If the Foundation trustees feel that your proposal has merit for our annual grant awards, we will invite you to submit a Proposal Application. Submitting a Proposal Application does not, however, mean that your proposal has been awarded.

Guidelines for Proposals

The Kumin Foundation seeks to perpetuate and build on the passions of its founders, with a strong emphasis on Alaska. Areas of interest include the visual arts, music (classical, opera and jazz), education and literacy, wetlands, architecture, rural/urban issues, sailing, cross-country skiing and trails for recreation, homelessness and recognition of the innate dignity and humanity of every person. The Kumin Foundation encourages proposals that reflect synergy, activism and energy. Proposals need to be thoughtful, mindful of their budget, integrate with the goals of your organization and reflect their impact on the organization and the community. We are also interested in any leverage of other funds this grant will provide your organization.

The Kumin Foundation seeks to create opportunities for organizational risk taking, cohesion and expression of cultures and interweaving arts, education, service and recreation. The Foundation may provide funding for up to three years for integrative and ground breaking projects. Extensions may be available depending on progress of the project and funding availability. Currently, the maximum amount available per project per year is $10,000. Only one grant would be available at this amount; however we would be happy to fund smaller proposals to that amount.

A written report and accounting of the grant will be required according to the Timeline below. Grant money must be used as indicated in the Proposal. If changes in the Proposal are required, it must be approved by the Kumin Foundation.

All applications must include a description of the quantitative and/or qualitative evaluation assessment your organization will use to assess the success or failure of this project. The Foundation is also very interested in the perceived impact or possible leverage this project will have on the Alaskan community. Every funded project will conclude with a final evaluation, conducted jointly, on lessons learned.

This Guideline is considered part of your proposal contract, if the proposal is awarded.
