Part IV Supplemental Information

Complete this part to provide the information required in Part I, line 2, and any additional information.

Baal Dan raises money in the United States and then provides grants to projects in India. Grants are allocated to orphans, school, charities and grassroots projects in India that have been audited (personally visited) by Baal Dan representatives and meet certain requirements. Baal Dan works with these projects to determine how best to help the children in their care.

In order for a project to receive grant money from Baal Dan certain requirements must be met. A grant application is required annually for each project. The application requires, among other things, a statement of the projects purpose and goals and a brief description of sources of funds. The grant requestor agrees to using the funds provided by Baal Dan directly for the children it serves. It also agrees to providing written reports to Baal Dan as to the use of funds, as well as, maintaining records and receipts for Baal Dan's review upon request. The projects selected for grants must allow unrestricted access to Baal Dan's representatives for purposes of project review, either through personal site visits, phone discussions or emails. Also, each grant requestor must certify that it has not provided and will not provide support or resources to any individual or organization that advocates, plans, sponsors, engages in, or has engaged in terrorist activity.

Once grant requests have been received, each request is reviewed and determined whether the project is stable, reputable and in keeping with Baal Dan's purpose and goals. All grants over $5,000 are approved by Baal Dan's board of directors.

In most cases, funds are wired to the grant recipient.
