These companies are affiliated with AFSI. Only RiverSource Life Insurance Co. of New York is authorized to sell insurance and annuities in New York.

SIPC coverage: Brokerage accounts are protected by Securities Investor Protection Corporation (SIPC) up to a maximum of $500,000 per client which includes a $100,000 limit on claims for cash held in the account. We have obtained excess coverage on total brokerage account assets up to $24.5 million per client with a firm aggregate of $100 million for all customer accounts. Assets with RiverSource Life Insurance Company, assets with other affiliated insurance companies and mutual fund assets held outside of your brokerage account are not covered by SIPC

Securities pricing: Affiliates of Ameriprise Financial Services, Inc. calculate the prices for Ameriprise and RiverSource products based on prices received from various sources. The prices used to provide values, yields and income for unaffiliated products and other securities are "estimates" obtained from various outside pricing services believed to be reliable. These estimates may be based either on closing prices, bid/ask quotations or a matrix based on interest rates for similar securities. The estimates do not necessarily represent prices at which the securities could have been purchased or sold. Because they are estimates, we cannot guarantee their accuracy. Those securities that do not have prices available at the time of the statement, or where we have not received pricing from our outside pricing services, are not included in the total account value

Activity for this period: Information regarding transaction execution time and capacity will be furnished upon written request. Transaction(s) that have not yet settled by the date of this statement will appear on your next statement.

Estimated Cost Basis and Capital Gain/Loss Information: Consult your tax advisor when making tax decisions. Cost basis and capital gain/loss information (realized or unrealized) reported here may be based on purchases made directly through Ameriprise Financial and/or purchase price and cost basis information provided by either yourself, your advisor or from your previous brokerage or mutual fund company. "Blank" or "N/A" means the information may be incomplete or unavailable. Generally, gains or losses are calculated by selling the oldest positions first, unless securities were specified at the time of sale (or closing transaction). For Separately Managed Accounts, the highest cost positions are liquidated first. Gain/loss information does not include wash sales or other adjustments to cost basis or holding period due to events such as gifts, death or divorce. Fixed income cost basis may not be adjusted to reflect all original issue discount or premium amortization. Gains or losses for mutual funds are calculated using the average cost, single-category method, which may include wash sales, but not other basis adjustments. You are responsible for keeping accurate records of the cost and sales prices of your investments in order to properly report your taxes. Do not rely on this statement. The cost basis and gain/loss information does not impact the current tax liability of IRAs.

Free Credit Balance - In general, a free credit balance represents funds payable upon demands which, although properly accounted for on our books, are not segregated and may be used in the conduct of the firm's business. We may pay you interest on available free credit balances, and as part of compensation in servicing your account, we may earn income from the balances.

Payment for Order Flow Policies and Practices: Your broker/dealer routes its orders through American Enterprise Investment Services, Inc. ("AEIS"), which provides clearing services for your broker/dealer and is a member of the New York Stock Exchange and FINRA.

Payment for Order Flow Policy:

AEIS may receive compensation from various broker/dealers or market centers for directing its trade volume to those institutions for execution. This form of compensation is often referred to as "Payment for Order Flow".

Payment for Order Flow may be paid to AEIS in the form of monetary payments.

AEIS payment for order flow and order routing policies are furnished to customers on an annual basis.

Order Routing Policy: Some market centers or broker-dealers may execute orders at prices superior to the publicly quoted market. AEIS considers a number of factors in its decision process as to which exchange and market center it directs its customer orders for execution. These factors include but are not limited to: the speed of execution, the opportunity for price improvement; liquidity enhancement opportunities; trading characteristics of the particular individual security; and size of the order. The above referenced factors are taken into consideration regardless of whether or not payment for order flow is received. For more detailed information, please visit our Order Routing Report published quarterly on ameriprise.com. This can be accessed by the following path: ameriprise.com > Click "Products and Services" > Click "Investments" > Click "Stocks and Bonds" > Click "Order Routing Report".

Financial Interest in Products: Ameriprise Financial Services, Inc. (AFSI) has a financial interest in the sales of proprietary products that are manufactured by its affiliates. AFSI and its affiliates receive more revenue from the sale of some financial products and services, particularly those products and services sold under the Ameriprise and RiverSource brands, than for the sale of other products and services. AFSI generally also receives more revenue for securities or products sold in a fee-based account than for those sold with only a sales charge or commission.

Higher revenue generally results in greater profitability for the firm. Employee compensation (including management and field leader compensation) and operating goals at all levels of the company are tied to the company's success. Management, sales leaders and other employees generally spend more of their time and resources promoting Ameriprise and RiverSource products and services.

As it pertains to mutual funds, both AFSI and your individual financial advisor are compensated when you buy the fund through AFSI. Generally, your financial advisor receives a substantial portion of the sales charge and distribution and shareholder service (12b-1) fees paid to the firm in connection with your purchase for as long as you own your fund shares. Sales charges and 12b-1 fees vary from fund to fund and from class to class. AFSI and the advisor receive more compensation on fund or share classes that pay higher fees. AFSI and the advisor generally receive less compensation when the sales charge is reduced or waived completely.

Marketing support: AFSI receives payments for marketing support, also commonly known as revenue sharing, when you purchase shares of mutual funds or 529 Plans that participate in our program as either Full Participation or Limited Participation firms. To participate in our program, fund families agree to pay AFSI a portion of the revenue generated from the sale and/or management of fund shares. Full Participation firms pay revenue sharing at a higher level than do other participating firms. AFSI also receives payments when you purchase products for which we, or our affiliates, have similar financial arrangements, such as RiverSource variable annuity products, variable life insurance products and Alternative Investments (REITS, fund of hedge funds, structured CDs and notes, and managed futures). The sources and amounts of these payments are available upon request, and are found at ameriprise.com/guide. For additional information on a particular fund's payment and compensation practices, please review the fund's prospectus and statement of additional information (SAI).

DPP, REIT, 1031, FoHF, and other Alternative Investments Securities Disclosure: Positions held in limited partnerships (LP), limited liability companies, fund of hedge funds (FoHF), real estate investment trusts (REIT), tenant-in-common real estate securities (1031) or other alternative investments, which are not listed on a national exchange or the Nasdaq, are generally illiquid because no formal trading market exists for these securities. Their values may be different from the purchase price and may not necessarily be realized if the issuer liquidates the security or if you sell your interests. Unless otherwise indicated, the values of the positions you hold represent estimates of your interest in the net assets of the program and are reflected in the total value of your account, shown herein. The valuation of non-traded REIT, FoHF, 1031, and LP interests is either the initial offering price or an estimated value, both of which are provided by the issuer. Unless otherwise indicated, the number of units owned, shown herein, has been provided by the management of each program and may not necessarily reflect subsequent activity.

Disclosure for Persons Without a Financial Advisor: Mutual funds can be purchased through AFSI without the aid of an advisor through the company's online brokerage site or other channels. If you do not work with a financial advisor, some of the statements above may not apply to you. If you do not work with an advisor, AFSI keeps the full amount of any sales charges and 12b-1 fees paid to AFSI on your transaction.
