The organization contracts with a Professional Employer Organization (PEO) for its human resources services. The PEO provides the organization with payroll and benefits administration, and human resources compliance. The organization and the PEO are considered to be "co-employers." However, for administrative purposes, the PEO is considered to be the employer and all federal employment tax returns are filed in the name of the PEO. Therefore, though the organization is reporting 11 employees on Part I, line 5, it has reported 0 employees on Part V, line 2a.

Part VI, line 7a

These inputs, the process and the final decision are documented as part of the process. The compensation of all other employees of the organization is determined by the CEO, using the same inputs, and approved by the Board as part of the annual budget process.

Part VI, line 19
