Identifier	Return Reference	Explanation
Part X	Description of Uncertain Tax Positions Under FIN 48	On January 1, 2009, IFPRI adopted the accounting standard on accounting for uncertainty in income taxes, which addresses the determination of whether tax benefits claimed or expected to be claimed on a tax return should be recorded in the financial statements. Under this guidance, IFPRI may recognize the tax benefit from an uncertain tax position only if it is more-likely-than-not that the tax position will be sustained on examination by taxing authorities, based on the technical merits of the position. The tax benefits recognized in the financial statements from such a position are measured based on the largest benefit that has a greater than 50% likelihood of being realized upon ultimate settlement. The guidance on accounting for uncertainty in income taxes also addresses de-recognition, classification, interest and penalties on income taxes, and accounting in interim periods. Management evaluated IFPRI's tax positions and concluded that IFPRI had taken no uncertain tax positions that require adjustment to the financial statements to comply with the provisions of this guidance. With few exceptions, IFPRI is no longer subject to income tax examinations by the U S federal, state or local tax authorities for years before 2006.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 11		The Form 990 is prepared by the Finance unit and reviewed by the Director of Finance and Administration and the Director General. It is then forwarded to the external auditors for review. Before a copy is sent to the Board of Trustees, the Chair of the Audit Committee will forward an comments to IFPRI finance. Once the comments have been addressed, the 990 return is signed by the auditors and an officer for IFPRI.
Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 12c		IFPRI's personnel manual addresses conflict of interest. Appointment letters for new staff include IFPRI's conflict of interest statement. Signing the appointment letter certifies that the staff member has read the statement and has agreed to abide by its provisions. Senior management as well as other staff as deemed appropriate by senior management is required to sign the conflict of interest on an annual basis. The Board of Trustees Handbook requires Trustees to disclose any matters that would be considered a conflict of interest while discharging responsibilities of a Trustee. Such matters fall under the jurisdiction of the audit committee.
Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 15		In addition to US citizens and permanent residents, nearly half of IFPRI's staff are employed under G-4 VISAs. Gross salary for G-4 staff, which is tax exempt, is determined based on prevailing salary for US citizens holding comparable positions. Salary adjustments, representing tax deductions and withholdings equivalent to US citizens, are made to arrive at net pay (est. taxable income for US citizens) for G-4 visa holders. The deduction is based on a combination of information provided by staff (marital status, dependents, ect) and average itemized deductions for comparable US salaries. The net is what is actually paid to G-4 staff and recorded as expense. The gross salary is only maintained for administrative purposes and computation of retirement contribution and life/AD&D benefits and does not pass through the books.
Form 990, Part VI, Section C, line 19		Audited financial statements are made available to the general public as result of the annual 990 filing which is assessable via several websites that offer public services. Most other governing documents such as the strategy document and medium term plan are available on IFPRI's website. The conflict of interest policy is posted on IFPRI's intranet site.
