Distributions to, or on behalf of Providence Benedictine Nursing Center for operations Since 1955, Providence Benedictine Nursing Center has been a model of excellence, innovation and best practices that include spiritual and emotional support in addition to physical care. The center has been a pioneer in caring for the frail and elderly in a variety of settings, always emphasizing the importance of an environment in which their individuality and preferences are respected. Today, doctors throughout the region refer their patients to our facility and home health services knowing we offer the most skilled and loving care possible. Providence Benedictine Nursing Center continues to be a leader in long-term care because we constantly challenge ourselves to review and improve our services. Recently, this has resulted in the creation of our therapy garden. This beautiful courtyard is filled with color, texture and fragrance, becoming a favorite spot for our residents and their families to relax. We have also added a new menu program that gives residents more variety and independence in their meal choices. Our dining room has been remodeled and refurnished, becoming a place where residents and their families regularly enjoy meals together. In addition, anyone can buy coffee and sandwiches from the new Divine Bean Espresso Bar. It is Providence's Mission to help all who need it, regardless of their ability to pay. More than half our residents and patients are Medicaid-eligible, while some of our counterparts do not even take Medicaid. Over the past decade, the need for our services has increased, but government reimbursement has continually decreased. The nature of the long-term care industry and the fluctuations in government funding continue to present challenges as we strive to maintain a quality of care that exceeds industry standards. It is through the generosity of donors that Providence Benedictine continues to be a leader in caring for the elderly and physically fragile.
