Summary

Activities & Governance	1	Briefly describe the organization's mission or most significant activities The foundation is focused on meeting today's environmental, social, and educational challenges through application of Hawaii's timeless values and traditional practices. These include the ahupuaa system of land and environmental management, problem-solving through hooponopono, hoonaauao (traditional mentorship in education), and the values of aloha (sharing), onipaa (perseverance), lokahi (unity), and malama aina (love for the land). Of particular interest are under-served segments of our society, such as preschool children and their caregivers, and economically-depressed communities and families. Because of Hawaii's unique environment and natural resources, the foundation is also committed to expanding the values of environmental stewardship and the use of natural processes for environmental remediation and the development of responsible and sustainable agricultural technologies.
