Form 990, Part III, Line 1 - Organization Mission

To organize and educate for reproductive justice, which will be achieved when all people have the economic, social and political power and resources to make healthy decisions about our gender, bodies and sexuality for ourselves, our families and our communities.

The EMERJ (Expanding the Movement for Empowerment and Reproductive Justice) Initiative's greatest achievement in 2009 was creating vehicles for reproductive justice organizations to take collective action in order to amplify their work and make a deep impact. EMERJ increased the capacity of local and statewide organizations to take their work to the national level, developing a critical mass of alliances and enough movement capacity to set the stage to take an explicit role in national policy change. Specifically, EMERJ held two convenings of the Strategy Team, EMERJ's management team, which it increased by two member organizations; convened two Strategic Cohorts with a total of 14 organizations from seven states; conducted 10 trainings and provided 25 hours of technical assistance to allied organizations and funders across the country to do more effective and strategic reproductive justice work; convened and facilitated a Task Force of 7 reproductive justice leaders to collectively develop the Movement Building Indicators, who then engaged an additional 13 allies to provide input; supported at least 15 organizations and 2 funders to use the Movement Building Indicators in their evaluation and planning work; held a webinar for funders to share the tremendous growth of its movement building model over the last two years, over a third of which were new to the Reproductive Justice Movement; conducted an external evaluation at the initiative's two-year mark; and developed and disseminated four tools and reports -

The Sisters in Action for Issues of Reproductive Empowerment (SAFIRE) high school youth organizing program trained 48 young Asian women to be leaders and organizers in their communities. Their most significant accomplishment in 2009 was positioning themselves as youth leaders taking action for reproductive justice and climate justice in Oakland. In January, SAFIRE leaders led a workshop for over 100 participants at Power Shift '09, the largest-ever national gathering of young people demanding climate action. Over the summer, 35 youth conducted a community-based participatory research project to examine the environmental and health impacts of local industries on youth and their communities. The project inspired the young women to create a 30-minute theater piece to educate their communities about reproductive justice and environmental impacts on the lives of workers, families and youth in Oakland, tying these everyday issues to a broader climate justice framework. They performed the piece twice, first at the SAFIRE end-of-year celebration attended by over 70 people, including two Oakland City Council members and staff from the office of the Mayor, a State Assembly Member, and a County Supervisor; and again at the first-ever Oakland Community Convergence for Climate Action attended by 400 community members, organizers and elected officials. In the fall, SAFIRE leaders also facilitated the "City of Oakland Interconnect: Youth and Climate Justice" workshop for 80 youth participants representing 11 Bay Area youth organizations, presented on a youth panel for an audience of 35 at the San Francisco Green Festival, and facilitated a workshop for 20 students at a Laney College class on Asian American Activism. SAFIRE is now recognized by local community leaders and

The POLISH (participatory research, Organizing and Leadership Initiative for Safety and Health) nail salon worker organizing program had some significant successes in 2009, despite a transition in our lead POLISH staff as well as major hardship experienced by the nail salon community as a result of the economic downturn. Due to their leadership in bringing beneficial changes to the health and safety inspections process by the State Board of Barbering and Cosmetology (BBC), POLISH leaders were invited to the Marin Nail Salon Community Forum in June 2009 to train other workers on how to tell their stories, improve their health and build their own capacity to create policy change. In the fall, additional changes that workers have long demanded from the BBC, including health and safety materials translated into Vietnamese and modifications to the inspection process to be less punitive and more educational, were finally implemented. POLISH was also successful in stopping a proposed ordinance by the Oakland City Council to institute prohibitive costs for permits and planning of new salons, meant to deter the opening of new salons that would have devastated an economic cornerstone of the Vietnamese Community. By taking immediate action, organizing community leaders and meeting with City Council members, POLISH was able to postpone the moratorium to allow for community input. POLISH has continued to monitor the City's actions regarding the proposed ordinance to ensure that nail salons are not unfairly targeted.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 12c - Explanation of Monitoring and Enforcement of Conflicts

Board members must sign the Organization's conflict of interest policy and agreement, and if a potential conflict of interest is present, the board member will abstain from discussing or voting on said conflict. The Chair of the meeting is expected to make inquiry if such conflict appears to exist and the board member has not made it known.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 15b - Compensation Review & Approval Process for Officers & Key Employees

The Organization uses salary surveys to determine compensation. In 2008 the Organization adopted a new salary scale that was based on researching compensation for comparable positions in nonprofits in the San Francisco Bay Area. The board had extensive discussions and then approved the final document. Salary surveys are conducted internally by acquiring data from organizations directly, and in this last year, another organization gave data they collected for their own salary survey as well.
