FACT SHEET

Mission

Working in partnership with our community to improve the quality of life for children, youth and families.

Vision

A healthy, safe community where families thrive, youth reach their full potential, and equality and opportunity are accessible to all.

Since 1986 Flintridge Center has worked to address critically unmet needs in Northwest Pasadena, Altadena and beyond by leading effective programs that respond to key community issues. We focus on after-school and mentoring programs for those most in need; community and gang violence prevention and intervention efforts; and strengthening nonprofit organizations throughout the San Gabriel Valley with our highly regarded training and consulting resources.

These life-changing initiatives have a significant impact on more than 5,000 children and their families in our community and help improve the safety and quality of life for all.

The Flintridge Center is a 501(c)(3) public charity and relies on the generous support and involvement of community members, civic-minded businesses, government agencies and foundations. Flintridge has a staff of 12 full-time employees and an annual budget of $2.5 million.

Community Initiatives

Mustangs on the Move After-School Program - After-school educational and enrichment programs create an important foundation for the future success of students and our communities. They improve a student's chances to graduate and to lead a productive life. They also provide a safe place to go during the "high-risk time" after school lets out and before a parent returns home from work.

Responding to a lack of programs for teens in a high poverty area of our community, in 2003 Flintridge helped launch and now directs after-school educational and enrichment programs with a partnership of 20 community organizations at John Muir High School. Results have been impressive:

- The high school graduation rate has increased by more than 30% to date.
- 20 after-school programs serve more than 80% of Muir students, double the national standard.
- Programs include: college and career preparation, academic support, arts, cooking and life skills.

Mustangs Mentoring Program - To provide positive and supportive guidance from caring adults for high-risk, high-need students functioning below grade level, Flintridge helped develop and now manages a mentoring program with a partnership of community organizations that matches John Muir High School and Washington Middle School students with volunteer adult mentors.

- 44 Muir students were matched with mentors in 2008. Two years later, 30 matches continue—a retention rate far above the national average and a strong indicator of program success.

- In 2010, Flintridge expanded the program to include 50 high-risk, high-need students at Washington Middle School. Those students are being matched with volunteers from the Pasadena Police and Fire Departments as well as adults from other fields.

Violence Prevention and Intervention Programs (Vision 20/20) – In response to a spike in gang violence in 2007, Flintridge was asked to facilitate a violence intervention and prevention initiative launched by Pasadena Councilmember Jacque Robinson that brought together a diverse alliance of county, city and community partners. As a result of this work, the City of Pasadena recognized Flintridge Center as a community leader and designated Flintridge as the Institutional Home to coordinate all gang and community violence prevention and intervention efforts in the city.

Flintridge is responsible for: (1) convening the 50+ member alliance and work groups; (2) planning and developing solutions for community-identified priorities; (3) reporting to the City Council and the Council's Public Safety Committee; and (4) leading/coordinating advocacy efforts.

- Over 20 nonprofit and faith-based organizations joined together with leadership from Day One to safely engage youth during the month of July 2010. The life-skills summer school (SKILLZ) served 65 teens, who earned up to five elective credits for their participation. At the conclusion of summer school, teens were connected to ongoing school-year programs for additional academic support and enrichment activities.
- Flintridge coordinated a grassroots advocacy effort in June 2010 that obtained city funds to continue the City's N.O.W. Program (Neighborhood Outreach Worker Program). The program discourages gang activity.
- Flintridge and the Pasadena Police Department launched, and Flintridge coordinates, the Pasadena/Altadena Reintegration Council, a coalition of community-based, faith-based, philanthropic, business, civic and educational organizations designed to assist formerly incarcerated individuals who are returning to our community. This grassroots collaborative provides comprehensive services and resources to help them reintegrate back into the community.
- With expertise and leadership from the County of Los Angeles Human Relations Commission, Flintridge and ten other community partners developed the Community Violence Intervention-Prevention Institute & Network to provide 36 hours of instruction on violence intervention and prevention and basic outreach techniques to 50 individuals serving gang-impacted youth, young adults and their families. The Institute has offered four courses to date and trained 54 participants.

Job Preparation Program – Job preparation is an essential component of a comprehensive violence prevention strategy and is one of the most effective paths to a productive life for high-risk individuals. Flintridge initiated and coordinates the Apprenticeship Preparation Program to prepare unemployed and under-employed adults for apprenticeships in the construction trades.

- Over 100 students have completed the free 240-hour course, which is offered three times a year.
- Job search skills and case management services are integrated into the curriculum, which includes construction math; basic rigging; and introduction to hand tools, power tools, and blueprints. Graduating students are also assisted with job placement efforts.
- Graduates have gone on to union apprenticeships and have been placed in construction jobs through Pasadena's First Source Hiring Program and Alta/Pasa Community Improvement Center.

Capacity Building – Since 1993 Flintridge's Community Services program has helped to strengthen local nonprofit organizations with educational programs and resources at reasonable or no cost. Participants report that these services are invaluable to their work and cite numerous positive outcomes such as grants received or improved operations as a result. These services include one-on-one consultations with nonprofit experts, workshops and trainings, a Philanthropy Resource Library and free or low-cost meeting space at the Flintridge Retreat Center.

- More than 400 nonprofit organizations utilized capacity-building services in 2009.
- 950 nonprofit staff and volunteers attended one or more of our 78 workshops last year.
- 470 nonprofit events and meetings were hosted at the Flintridge Retreat Center.

Northwest ECHO Capacity-Building Program – Flintridge furnishes customized training and capacity-building services to a coalition of 23 local community- and faith-based organizations serving at-risk youth. Collaborative projects designed to foster positive youth development include:

- An outreach campaign developed with Designmatters' students at Art Center College of Design, which includes a text-messaging system that notifies teens about youth-oriented events.
- An "art park" where teens can express themselves through painting, writing, spoken word, hip hop, dance and other urban art forms.
- Surveying youth and conducting focus groups to get teen input on Pasadena's new teen center.

Previous and current funders of Flintridge Center programs include the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, CA Department of Education 21st Century Community Learning Center Program, City of Pasadena, Dwight Stuart Youth Foundation, Ralph M. Parsons Foundation, individual donations, and the invaluable in-kind contributions of our many community partners.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Mustangs on the Move (MOTM) is a dynamic collaboration of many community stakeholders providing educational, enrichment and life-skills programs during non-school hours on the campus of John Muir High School in Northwest Pasadena. The collaborative, which includes 20 nonprofit organizations and local colleges, currently implements more than 20 unique offerings each semester, most of which are requested by the students.

Programs range from academic support (tutoring and credit reclamation) to the artistic (drama, fine art, and design), and also include cooking, jazz band, leadership development, life-skills training, pregnancy prevention, college preparation and access, and environmental science classes. In addition, MOTM offers a diversity of mentoring services. All programs are designed to prepare students for careers and/or higher education, and to be productive and resilient adults.

More than 80% of Muir students attended one or more programs during the 2009/10 school year; of those, approximately 200 students attended programs on a weekly basis. Current enrollment at John Muir High School is 1,099 students.

THE NEED

John Muir High School is one of four comprehensive high schools in the Pasadena Unified School District (PUSD). It is ranked as the lowest performing of the four schools, with an API score of 626 out of a California state target of 800. Muir is located in Northwest Pasadena, a community that is rich in cultural diversity and tradition, yet one that struggles with high rates of poverty, gang activity, crime, and other social and economic issues that have remained unaddressed.

POPULATION SERVED

- 32% of Muir students come from single-parent homes.
- 8% live with foster families, a grandparent, or in group homes.
- 60% are Latino; 34% are African-American.
- 12% are English language learners.
- 73% qualify for the federal free and reduced lunch program.

GOALS/PURPOSE

- Improve student academic achievement.
- Expose students to hands-on job and career preparation and experiences.
- Increase the number of students who pass both California High School Exit Exam subtests by 12th grade and receive high school diplomas.
- Promote healthy living practices.
- Decrease risk factors associated with school failure.
- Strengthen the capacity of youth service organizations that implement the after-school programs and services.

PROGRAM DETAILS

- MOTM operates 48 weeks during the school year, including an eight-week summer session.
- Most programs run from 3 p.m.–6 p.m., Monday through Thursday, but others take place before school, at lunchtime and on weekends. Each program has a student advisor who provides assistance.
- Field trips expose students to new cultural and educational experiences.
- A family literacy component for parents and other adult relatives of Muir students has been recently introduced.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

- MOTM's attendance rate is nearly double the national standard of after-school programs.
- More than 30% of seniors for the past three years have graduated on schedule after completing MOTM's math, social science and English reclamation classes.
- Of the ten seniors serving as MOTM student advisors in 2009/10, nine were accepted to four-year universities.
- Students who regularly participate in MOTM programs have a higher school attendance rate than those who don't. They are more likely to score proficient or advanced on state tests for all grades.
- 90% of students who completed MOTM's preparation class for the California High School Exit Exam (CAHSEE) passed one section and 78% passed both sections.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The program is a community collaboration composed of local agencies that provide mentoring services, groups that refer adult volunteer mentors, and the Pasadena Unified School District (PUSD).

Mentoring services focus on high-risk youth at Washington Middle School and John Muir High School. Students struggling with low academic achievement, poor school attendance, emotional distress or behavior problems are referred by teachers or school counselors and matched with a caring adult who commits to spending 5 hours per month (minimum) for one year (minimum) as a mentor. The mentor provides educational and social support to help the young person reach his or her potential, leading to a future that is safe, healthy, and productive.

In October of 2010, services expanded to include a group mentoring component as a pilot program, matching a cohort of 8 boys with 4 firefighters.

Flintridge coordinates the collaborative and leads its fundraising efforts. Flintridge also offers training opportunities for the mentors and technical assistance and resources for the mentoring agencies.

THE NEED

In contrast to its long, proud tradition, in recent years John Muir High School has become better known for substandard academic achievement and delinquency issues. Compared to the State of California's 83.1% graduation rate, only 56.7% of Muir students completed graduation requirements in 2007-2008. Both John Muir and Washington Middle School have suspension rates that are significantly higher than the district. In 2007-2008, Muir had a 43.1% suspension rate compared to the district's 16.7%, while Washington had a 41.5% rate compared to 20.6% among comparable schools district-wide.

GOALS/PURPOSE

- Provide quality one-to-one mentoring services for 100 at risk-youth each year.
- Reduce negative behaviors among students served, including but not limited to gang participation, pregnancy, truancy, and substance abuse.
- Enhance the abilities of local organizations to provide evidence-based mentoring services.
- Increase community support and awareness of youth issues.

- Increase the numbers of students graduating from high school prepared for higher educational opportunities or vocational training.

POPULATION SERVED

- Severely at-risk 7th and 8th graders attending Washington Middle School and 9th and 10th graders attending John Muir High School.

PROGRAM DETAILS

- Mentor referral agencies recruit mentors from their membership.
- Mentors are screened and matched by one of five mentoring agencies and must complete a background check with PUSD.
- Students are referred for mentoring by school personnel and nonprofit partners, then matched with a mentoring agency.
- Mentoring agencies meet with students and parents, match students to mentors, and monitor relationships via monthly visits and phone calls.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

- In 2008, the program's first year, forty-four 9th grade students were matched with mentors. To date, 30 of these students remain matched.
- Six students from Washington Middle School were matched with Pasadena Police Officers in June 2010; in November 2010 the matches with Pasadena Fire Department staff will take place.
- Mentors undergo two significant trainings: a full-day mentoring conference on cultural competency and other issues, and a presentation by a nationally recognized mentoring expert.

WHAT ARE THE REQUIREMENTS FOR GRADUATION?

To be included in graduation, participants are expected to have 100% attendance, be on time and stay for the full course each session. Note: One excused absence, tardy arrival and/or early departure from class is permitted if approved by Tarik Ross, Community Intervention/Prevention Organizer.

WHAT DOES THE COURSE PREPARE PARTICIPANTS FOR?

The course enhances participants' abilities to effectively engage in their current informal intervention/prevention activities. Completion of the course broadens the participants' understanding of risk associated with gang intervention and exposes the participants to concepts, language and personal training that are required for hardcore gang intervention. Completion of the course also certifies that the participants have fundamental knowledge of gang culture in the Pasadena/Altadena area and exposure to a network of specialized, experienced interventionists who currently work in the community. Finally, participants who earn certificates of completion will have knowledge of the many community-based organizations and resources currently serving Pasadena/Altadena that are focused on community and gang violence prevention.

PASADENA/ALTADENA APPRENTICESHIP PREPARATION PROGRAM

PRIMARY CONTACT:

Program Director Brian Biery
626/449-0839, ext 117 / Brian@Flintridge.org

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The tuition-free, 240-hour course provides unemployed or underemployed young adults with the information, skills, and knowledge they need to prepare for apprenticeships with construction trade unions.

The course is offered three times a year at Pasadena community centers, with an approximate enrollment of 25 students per class (two classes per semester and one class during summer). Each course is taught by a certified instructor from Pasadena City College. Case management services, designed especially for individuals with inconsistent work histories, are provided by Pasadena Mental Health Center under contract with Flintridge. In addition, Flintridge provides community outreach, student recruitment services, all course materials (books, calculators, journals, etc.), site visit transportation, schedule coordination, course administration, and collaboration between all partner organizations.

Course topics include basic safety; introduction to construction math; introduction to hand tools, power tools, and blueprints; basic rigging; communication and employability skills; conversations with union representatives and contractors; and site visits to union training centers, construction sites, and a Gold LEED Certified development.

THE NEED

The program was developed in response to an alarming rise in violence in 2007 when homicides and gang activity spiked. The violence shocked the community and brought to the attention of the city's leaders the reality that Pasadena is home to hundreds of gang members and individuals with former gang ties and/or criminal histories. Councilmember Jacque Robinson issued a call to action, and representatives from various sectors of the city joined forces to identify possible solutions to the gang problem. Apprenticeship Preparation for the construction trades was proposed by Flintridge as one of the most effective paths to a productive life for high-risk individuals, as prior gang connections, tattoos, or a criminal record are usually not employment barriers in this field.

Also, a career in one of the trade unions provides excellent health benefits, retirement options, regular pay raises, opportunities for advancement, and many other supportive services

GOALS/PURPOSE

- Assist graduates in preparing for, identifying, and successfully entering apprenticeships with construction trade unions.
- Assist participants with managing difficult life issues that are barriers to successfully navigating a career path.
- Assist graduates in identifying and securing non-apprenticeship jobs and/or additional educational opportunities upon graduation.

POPULATION SERVED

- Former gang members, ex-offenders, long-term unemployed, and significantly under-employed adults are the majority of students.
- Approximately 94% are male, 58% are African-American and 37% are Latino.
- Participants must be substance free and no longer participating in gang activities; they are required to resolve outstanding child-support issues.
- Most, but not all, have a high school diploma or GED.

PROGRAM DETAILS

- 25 students per class, 100% attendance required.
- Five sessions per year
- Classes meet four days per week, 16 weeks per session (10 weeks during summer).
- Job search, life skills, goal setting, interview preparation, and placement services are integrated into each session.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

- Enrolled many graduates in apprenticeship training programs with local unions.
- Secured a variety of short-term construction jobs for graduates through the City of Pasadena's First Source Local Hiring program and Alta/Pasa Community Improvement Center.
- Transitioned several graduates into continuing studies at Pasadena City College.
- Provided all students with job acquisition skills in the areas of interviewing, resume writing, and application completion.

COMMUNITY PARTNERS

- 12 local unions
- 18 nonprofit organizations
- Five Acres/Pasadena Mental Health Center
- City of Pasadena

Lisa@Flintridge.org; Brian@Flintridge.org

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Northwest Empowering Communities, Helping Others (NW ECHO) is a program to strengthen community- and faith-based organizations serving at-risk youth in Northwest Pasadena/Altadena

We provide customized capacity-building services such as training, consulting, workshops, and other resources to a cohort of 23 grassroots nonprofit agencies. The goal of the program is to enhance the capacity of these organizations to respond to the challenges that youth face growing up in our society. In addition, participating agencies explore ways in which they can work together to maximize their impact on the community.

The NW ECHO Program is funded in large part by a three-year, $750,000 Communities Empowering Youth grant from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. This funding is part of a national initiative designed to reduce gang activity, youth violence, and child abuse/neglect, as well as to promote community partnerships.

THE NEED

The federal government has acknowledged that many communities in the U.S. are plagued by gang members and their violent activities. Pasadena/Altadena is no exception, hosting more than a dozen distinct gangs and hundreds of gang members. With over 20,000 vulnerable, school-aged youth in the Pasadena/Altadena community, it is imperative that children are connected to caring adults and enriching activities that support their academic and personal development and steer them away from gang involvement.

GOALS/PURPOSE

- To develop a network of service providers that support one another in a community-wide effort to reduce violence and gang activity.
- To make sure that every child has a safe place to go after school.
- To build the capacity of program partners in the areas of program delivery, leadership skills, organizational development, and community engagement.
- To raise awareness about violence and gang issues in our area, especially among community leaders, decision-makers, and elected officials

POPULATION SERVED

- Twenty-three nonprofit organizations of all sizes from within the communities of Northwest Pasadena and Altadena that serve children, youth, and their families.
- These organizations serve a combined 4,000 at-risk young people and their families every year.
- Many of our partner organizations provide enrichment programs on campus at local schools, while others provide parenting classes, health care, counseling, child care, violence intervention, and related activities out in the community

- Training activities are tailored to meet the specific needs of individual partner organizations and include workshops, one-on-one consulting, webinars, guest speakers, brown-bag lunch sessions, and peer learning opportunities
- This past year, more than 70 skill-building activities were offered, representing over 200 hours of training.
- Partners collaborated with Art Center College of Design on a project to create outreach materials that would steer teens towards positive activities. The resulting media strategies include a text messaging system to inform teens about youth-oriented events in the community, giveaway trading cards featuring unconventional career choices, and other youth-accessible communications tools.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

- Thousands of children and youth are now involved in positive, enriching after-school programs every day provided by NW ECHO Program partners.
- Partners have improved their capacity by purchasing technology upgrades (computers, printers, copiers, etc) with grant funds
- Organizations have implemented new fund development plans, increased board effectiveness, and expanded or enhanced their services.
- Partners are collaborating on activities and programs that respond to the needs of teens in the community, such as the city's annual Youth Month during August and teen job fairs
- Partners surveyed youth and conducted focus groups to get teen input on services and programs for the new La Pintoresca Teen Education Center. More than 200 teens provided feedback
