Wood River Land Trust Program Achievements

4/1/2009 – 3/31/2010

River Health and Restoration:

Phase I of the restoration of Croy Creek Wetland at old City of Hailey dump site. Removed dump material (concrete, appliances, scrap metal, household waste, etc.), planted native vegetation, and started noxious weed control. Created a more naturally functioning wetland where it connects to the Big Wood River, improved wildlife habitat and water quality in the floodplain. Enhanced recreational and educational opportunities. The project is ongoing.

Third year of Trout Friendly Lawn program, an educational and proactive program addressing how local yard care impacts the health of the Big Wood River and its fishery. Demonstrations for property owners showcased the efficacy and benefits of using organic non-toxic applications, native plants, and low-impact watering systems. Yards that meet certain water conservation and protection requirements are certified as Trout Friendly. Local businesses and other nonprofits partner with the Land Trust. Twenty(20) lawns were certified in 2009 (15 had been certified in 2008.) The program is ongoing.

Project development and outreach for Hulen Meadows Pond project. The project's goal is riparian and river area restoration and improvement of public recreational opportunities. Surveying and floodplain analysis was conducted and we completed the study for the hydrological and restoration work. flood plain analysis, project analysis, mapping, topographic assessments, initial consultant reviews, approval by the City of Ketchum and legal consultation for stream restoration, flood plain analysis and project analysis which needed to be completed prior to the on-the-ground implementation of any restoration work. This preliminary work was completed in February 2010. Presently the BLM has reviewed our application for a Recreation and Public Purposes lease on the 205 acres on the local and regional levels. It has been approved at these two lower bureaucratic levels and sent to the BLM offices in Washington, DC awaiting final approval tentatively set for March 2011.

The Wood River Land Trust has been working to reestablish year-round stream flow in the river channel below Magic Reservoir dam. The project's work has primarily consisted of the negotiation with the Big Wood Canal company to consider the release of water year-round in order to reestablish the original river and to also return a fishery and riparian area as close to its historical pristine condition as is possible. Outside of the spring/summer irrigation season, no water is released from the dam and the river becomes a trickle as it is comprised solely of water from various low flow springs. In autumn and winter, shutting off the water can result in a substantial fish kill when stranded fish die from lack of oxygen or water. This artificial stream flow also disrupts wildlife and normal plant life cycles.

Staff organized volunteer work days at riparian/floodplain areas at Boxcar Bend, Howard, Croy Creek Wetland and Draper Wood River preserves on the Big Wood River, with emphasis on control of noxious weeds.

Land Stewardship:

Staff monitored all Wood River Land Trust conservation easements to ensure compliance with individual easement restrictions/language and to note any changes in the property. All monitoring data, such as photopoints, are reported and entered into the permanent record.

Fee lands were also monitored. These Land Trust preserves are maintained in their natural state and/or restored to a healthy landscape. Stewardship staff deals with such ongoing problems as noxious weeds, trash, vehicle incursions, and damaged trails.

In March, staff worked on preserve management plans and other stewardship files. (Snow hinders stewardship visits to most properties.)

Land Acquisition/Protection:

Although there were not any Land Acquisitions in this fiscal year we began negotiations to acquire the Timbered Dome property. Located approximately 10 miles west of the town of Arco and just east of Craters of the Moon National Monument. Sagebrush and grasses are the predominant vegetation on the 1,609-acre property. The ranch is bordered by BLM and private lands and is a critical migratory corridor for elk, deer and antelope and recently had a wintering herd of approximately 250 elk and 500 mule deer.

Timbered Dome provides year-round habitat for elk, chukar, raptors, pygmy rabbit, mule deer, and migratory songbirds. Most important are the resident Sage Grouse and their leks on and near the property which need added protection.
