Part III, Line 4		The Ralph Foster Museum seeks to actively support the academic, Christian, vocational, cultural and patriotic goals of the College of the Ozarks. The museum strives to provide a quality educational experience for the campus family and the community at large by focusing on the dynamic culture of the Ozarks region. Examples of the collections include antiques, tools, textiles and fine arts from the region. Other collections include natural history specimens from around the world, firearms, coins, stamps, dolls, military uniforms and artwork. In addition to the collections being available for scholarly research, the museum also provides educational experiences for 2,000 schoolchildren each year at no cost the area schools. All revenues generated by the Ralph Foster Museum support and further the mission of the College of the Ozarks, which is to provide the advantages of a Christian education for youth of both sexes, especially those found worthy, but who are without sufficient means to procure such training.
