Court Settlement

In 1991 First Alabama Bank (now known as Regions Bank), as Trustee of the Holy Name of Jesus Hospital Trust, filed a Request for Instructions in the Circuit Court of Etowah County, Alabama, In Equity (Civil Action No. CV 91-843-DWS). The Request for Instructions sought guidance on certain issues that arose following the sale of the Holy Name of Jesus Medical Center, a hospital owned and operated by the Holy Name of Jesus Medical Center, Inc. A Final Order in the case was entered on October 5, 1994, implementing a settlement agreement.

As part of the settlement agreement, the Trustee accepted responsibility for an annuity contract entered into by and between the Holy Name of Jesus Medical Center, Inc., an Alabama corporation, and Donald R. Garris, a former employee of the Holy Name of Jesus Medical Center, Inc. During the tax year ending June 30, 1995, the Trustee began making payments to Mr. Garris pursuant to the annuity contract. The Trust gives a Form 1099 to Mr. Garris with reference to these payments.

The Trust is carrying this annuity contract on its books as a liability. As each annuity payment is made, the liability decreases by the same amount as the payment. The liability is shown on Form 990, Part IV, at Line 65.

The annuity contract is related to services performed by Mr. Garris on behalf of the Holy Name of Jesus Medical Center (a hospital formerly known as the Holy Name of Jesus Hospital). Mr. Garris' services benefited and enhanced medical services for the Holy Name of Jesus Hospital and medical services in the State of Alabama, which are the purposes of the Holy Name of Jesus Hospital Trust. The Holy Name of Jesus Medical Center, Inc. is an organization recognized by the IRS as being described in Section 501(c)(3).

Form 990, Page 3, Part IV, Question 6

As required by Article 11 of the Holy Name of Jesus Trust Agreement, the Trust has historically benefited and enhanced medical services in the Holy Name of Jesus Hospital and medical services in the State of Alabama. The Trust has tried to improve medical services to the elderly, the handicapped, the disadvantaged, the sick and the poor sick by providing adequate housing to the elderly and by attracting physicians and medically related services to Gadsden as well as to other areas in Alabama. The Trust has provided loans at reasonable interest rates for the development of medical clinics, a not-for-profit ambulance service and development of physical facilities at the Holy Name of Jesus Medical Center. Since 1980 the Trust has assisted in attracting approximately 60 physicians to economically depressed areas in Alabama.

The trust has made investments in areas that would benefit the citizens of Alabama with hospital care, home health care, and elderly housing. The Trust has financed 12 adult living centers for the elderly and participated in a jointly financed adult living center (the Wesley Park Center).

Approximately 244 elderly residents are housed in the adult living centers. Following the sale of the Holy Name of Jesus Medical Center (formerly known as The Holy Name of Jesus Hospital) in late 1991, the Trust concentrated on developing and improving housing for the elderly. The Trust redesigned its one-bedroom apartment plan to comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act. The Trust also developed a model two bedroom apartment for the elderly. White Oak Management Corporation, a wholly owned subsidiary of the Trust, provided certain management services for the adult living centers until it was dissolved on December 6, 2006.

NOTE: Although the Trust no longer owns any of the adult living centers, it maintains a continuing relationship with the owners and has provided some of them with supplemental financing as well as consultation services. The Trust also continues to consider financing elderly living centers as opportunities arise.

During the tax year ending June 30, 1999, the Trust initiated a program to aid the settlement of Bosnian refugees fleeing the turmoil in the Balkans. So far, thirty families (benefiting a total of 94 individuals) have received loans from the trust to enable them to purchase their own homes in Mobile, Alabama. Under federal guidelines refugees are deemed to be under psychological stress and therefore their health is at risk. The families selected for these loans were recommended to the Trust by Catholic Social Services of Mobile, Alabama.

NOTE: Many of these loans are still outstanding. A few have been paid off. A few are delinquent.

During the tax year ending June 30, 2001, the Trust initiated a new program to aid a group of individuals in Point Clear, Alabama who are direct descendants of former slaves. Due to societal influences and mores, this group of individuals has resided in the area for generations, most dwelling in substandard if not decrepit structures. The living conditions in which these individuals reside subject each one to obvious health risks. Several families received loans from the trust to enable them to renovate or even purchase new homes on that same land. The families selected for these loans were recommended to the Trust by Catholic Social Services of Mobile, Alabama.

NOTE: The default rate for these loans has been higher than expected.

During the tax year ending June 30, 2001, the Trust also provided financial assistance in the way of a loan to an elderly daycare facility called Special Years, Inc. located in Selma, Alabama. The loan was used to renovate a house that will be used to provide daycare services for elderly adults between 6:00 am to midnight daily. Special Years, Inc. is operated by Yvonne Hatcher who is a registered nurse. This program was recommended to the trust by the Director of Catholic Social Services in Mobile, Alabama.

NOTE: This facility is still serving elderly adults.

During the tax year ending June 30, 2002, the Trust participated in financing the construction of the Wesley Park project with another financial institution. Following completion of construction the project received the proceeds of a tax credit lending program which paid down a large portion of Wesley Park's construction debt on February 18, 2005. The remainder of Trust's portion of the unpaid construction loan was converted to a term loan for this project.

NOTE: This term loan is still outstanding.

SUMMARY: Like the loans made by the Trust to finance medical clinic and elder housing projects, all of the loans described above are intended to help people cope with health problems. The loans are made at below market rates to people who would otherwise not be eligible for conventional financing. Loans have been made to both individuals and 501(c)(3) organizations.

CONSULTING AGREEMENT

In the tax year ending June 30, 1995, the Trust entered into a Consulting Agreement with the Missionary Servants of the Most Blessed Trinity to provide additional guidance and assistance in (a) fulfilling the purposes of the Trust and (b) determining eligibility of participants in Trust projects.

CURRENT ACTIVITY

The Sister Consultant meets regularly with the Trust Officer responsible for administering the Trust to review existing projects and to consider new projects. The Trust continuously searches for and evaluates potential projects to benefit and enhance medical services in the State of Alabama. Projects under consideration as of early 2010 include prescription medication programs in Madison County and a wellness program in Perry County. Another potential program involves possible financial aid for students interested in nursing careers in rural areas of Alabama. Because of the current economic situation, many tax-exempt organizations have been hampered in their financial ability to undertake projects like those that have received low-interest rate loans in the past from the Trust. The Trust, therefore, is considering other options to benefit and enhance medical services in Alabama.

Form 990, Page 2, Part III, Question 4a

As provided in the Holy Name of Jesus Trust Agreement, the Trust has historically benefited and enhanced medical services in the Holy Name of Jesus Hospital and medical services in the State of Alabama. The Trust has tried to improve medical services to the elderly, the handicapped, the disadvantaged, the sick and the poor sick by providing adequate housing to the elderly and by attracting physicians and medically related services to the Gadsden area. The Trust has provided loans at reasonable interest rates for the development of medical clinics, a not-for-profit ambulance service and development of physical facilities at the Holy Name of Jesus Medical Center. The Trust assisted in attracting approximately 60 physicians to economically depressed areas since 1980.

The trust has made investments in areas that would benefit the citizens of Alabama with hospital care, home health care, and elderly housing. The Trust has financed all of the following adult living centers for the elderly and was the builder/owner of all of the adult living centers built prior to 1996. The Trust sold all of its pre-1996 Centers to the Section 501(c)(3) organizations listed below:

“Attalla” means Attalla Housing and Social Services, Inc., a Section 501(c)(3) organization

“Wesley Park Ltd.” means Wesley Park – A Methodist Home for the Aging, Inc. a Section 501(c)(3) organization.

Approximately 244 elderly residents are housed in the adult living centers. Following the sale of the Holy Name of Jesus Medical Center (formerly known as The Holy Name of Jesus Hospital) in late 1991, the Trust concentrated on developing and improving housing for the elderly. The Trust redesigned its one-bedroom apartment plan to comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act. And the Trust has developed a model two bedroom apartment for the elderly. White Oak Management Corporation, a wholly owned subsidiary of the Trust, provided certain management services for the adult living centers until it was dissolved on December 6, 2006.

NOTE: Although the Trust no longer owns the facilities described above, it maintains a relationship with the owners and has provided some of them with supplemental financing as well as consultation services. The Trust also continues to consider financing elderly living centers as opportunities arise.

During the tax year ending June 30, 1999, the Trust initiated a program to aid the settlement of Bosnian refugees fleeing the turmoil in the Balkans. Thirty families (benefiting a total of 94 individuals) received loans from the trust to enable them to purchase their own homes in Mobile, Alabama. Under federal guidelines refugees are deemed to be under psychological stress and therefore their health is at risk. The families selected for these loans were recommended to the Trust by Catholic Social Services of Mobile, Alabama.

NOTE: Many of these loans are still outstanding. A few have been paid off. A few are delinquent.

During the tax year ending June 30, 2001, the Trust initiated a new program to aid a group of individuals in Point Clear, Alabama who are direct descendants of former slaves. Due to societal influences and mores, this group of individuals has resided in the area for generations, most dwelling in substandard if not decrepit structures. The living conditions in which these individuals reside subject each one to obvious health risks. Several families received loans from the trust to enable them to renovate or even purchase new homes on that same land. The families selected for these loans were recommended to the Trust by Catholic Social Services of Mobile, Alabama.

NOTE: The default rate for these loans has been higher than expected. The Trust is still working with some of the borrowers who are having difficulty making payments.

During the tax year ending June 30, 2001, the Trust also provided financial assistance in the way of a loan to an elderly daycare facility called Special Years, Inc. located in Selma, Alabama. The loan was used to renovate a house that will be used to provide daycare services for elderly adults between 6:00 am to midnight daily. Special Years, Inc. is operated by Yvonne Hatcher who is a registered nurse. This program was recommended to the trust by the Director of Catholic Social Services in Mobile, Alabama.

NOTE: This facility is still serving elderly adults. The loan is still outstanding.

During the tax year ending June 30, 2002, the Trust participated in financing the construction of the Wesley Park project with another financial institution. Following completion of construction the project received the proceeds of a tax credit lending program which paid down a large portion of Wesley Park's construction debt on February 18, 2005. The remainder of Trust's portion of the unpaid construction loan was converted to a term loan for this project.

NOTE: This assisted living and continued care community is operating successfully. The term loan is still outstanding.

SUMMARY: Like the loans made by the Trust to finance medical clinic and elder housing projects, all of the loans described above are intended to help people cope with health problems. The loans are made at below market rates to people who would otherwise not be eligible for conventional financing. Loans have been made to both individuals and 501(c)(3) organizations.

CONSULTING AGREEMENT

In the tax year ending June 30, 1995, the Trust entered into a Consulting Agreement with the Missionary Servants of the Most Blessed Trinity to provide additional guidance and assistance in (a) fulfilling the purposes of the Trust and (b) determining eligibility of participants in Trust projects.

CURRENT ACTIVITY

The Sister Consultant meets regularly with the Trust Officer responsible for administering the Trust to review existing projects and to consider new projects. The Trust continuously searches for and evaluates potential projects to benefit and enhance medical services in the State of Alabama. Projects under consideration as of early 2010 include prescription medication programs in Madison County and a wellness program in Perry County. Another potential program involves possible financial aid for students interested in nursing careers in rural areas of Alabama. Because of the current economic situation, many tax-exempt organizations have been hampered in their financial ability to undertake projects like those that have received low-interest rate loans in the past from the Trust. The Trust, therefore, is considering other options to benefit and enhance medical services in the State of Alabama.
