What is the organization's primary exempt purpose?
The mission of the Global Community Trust is to provide a wide array of educational and charitable programs, i e , technical assistance, capacity building and sustainability models to educate impoverished farming families across the globe who reside in communities with potentially lucrative crops such as coffee, tea, chocolate and sugar Designed to empower and educate these impoverished families, the Global Community Trust program is committed to improving the overall quality of life for these communities, and to create a sustainable, educational foundation from which generations of poverty can be overcome

Describe what was achieved in carrying out the organization's exempt purposes In a clear and concise manner, describe the services provided, the number of persons benefited, and other relevant information for each program title

28 The first project that began in the last quarter of 2009 is a scholarship fund for students to attend a unique education program offered by the Universidad del Valle de Guatemala (UVG) The program will help students complete the last two years of high school and the first two years of college with advanced training in agro-forestry, computer programming, science, mathematics, teaching, and community development In addition to an invaluable academic education, this program will provide students with vocational skills to supplement their income, a critical asset in a struggling economy All scholarship students have committed to return to their home towns to use their education for the betterment of their communities University Scholarships Of 17 students from the region who applied to UVG for acceptance, 16 passed their exams and were admitted to the university this January The 1 student who was not quite qualified to enter the university is a candidate for a scholarship to a local secondary school The university is located in Solola, many hours away from the Ixil region, so room and board has been arranged in Solola The boys live together in one location The girls live together right next door providing a strong sense of community amongst the students It has not been easy to leave their indigenous culture and their small communities to go off to the city For 3 students the move was too much to bear and they returned home Their university scholarships are being converted into secondary school scholarships and a place for them at the university is being held should they decide to return Primary and Secondary School Scholarships Along with university scholarships to UVG in Solola, a secondary school scholarship program is being developed closer to home for other students in the region Through these secondary school scholarships, an education will be accessible to hundreds of young, indigenous students in the Ixil Triangle The 3 Ixil students who returned home from UVG for personal reasons will be eligible for these secondary school scholarships Teacher Training Although there are local primary and secondary schools in each of the three pueblos, the quality of education needs improvement In order to improve the level of education in the primary and secondary schools, a program is being developed to train primary and secondary school teachers to improve their knowledge and teaching skills Seminars will be held several times each year offering teachers the training they need to become better qualified, more effective and more productive as they educate the next generation of students in the Ixil Triangle San Pedro Scholarship Project Over the past year, we began a project working with the women of San Pedro on a doll project to help raise funds by marketing and distributing this craft The indigenous women in this area are health care promoters They teach and train others in their community and the surrounding pueblos, about traditional medicine and medicinal herbs They teach pre and post natal care, preventative medicine and family and women's health There are few education opportunities for indigenous women in the area and they have always had a difficult time earning enough income to maintain their health care program and feed their families This doll project hopes to help raise the needed funds for these women to continue health education in their area
