Part III

Statement of Program Service Accomplishments

1

Briefly describe the organization’s mission

The mission of the ASRT is to advance the medical imaging and radiation therapy profession and to enhance the quality of patient care. ASRT achieves this mission by providing education, conducting research and strengthening standards.

2

Did the organization undertake any significant program services during the year which were not listed on the prior Form 990 or 990-EZ?

Yes

☒

No

If “Yes,” describe these new services on Schedule O

3

Did the organization cease conducting, or make significant changes in how it conducts, any program services?

Yes

☒

No

If “Yes,” describe these changes on Schedule O

4

Describe the exempt purpose achievements for each of the organization’s three largest program services by expenses. Section 501(c)(3) and 501(c)(4) organizations and section 4947(a)(1) trusts are required to report the amount of grants and allocations to others, the total expenses, and revenue, if any, for each program service reported.

4a

(Code) (Expenses $ including grants of $) (Revenue $)

The ASRT publications provide information that helps radiologic technologists improve patient care. The scientific journals "Radiologic Technology" and "Radiation Therapist" add to the profession's body of knowledge. These journals provide educational articles on topics such as new technology, patient care and disease processes. Articles in the "ASRT Scanner" magazine address issues such as ethics, health care policy and professional standards.

4b

(Code) (Expenses $ including grants of $) (Revenue $)

The ASRT develops educational products and organizes educational conferences to improve radiologic technologists' knowledge and skills, ensure that medical imaging and radiation therapy are delivered in a safe, accurate manner, and assist members of the profession in meeting continuing education requirements.

4c

(Code) (Expenses $ including grants of $) (Revenue $)

The ASRT develops and advocates for professional standards. For example, ASRT produces educational curricula, develops practice standards and scopes of practice, promotes a professional code of ethics, issues position statements on practice-related issues, and works with accreditors, certification bodies, regulatory agencies, and state and federal lawmakers to ensure that radiologic technologists are educationally prepared and clinically competent.

Form 990, Part VI, Section A, line 7b		The bylaws designate that some Board decisions are approved by the House of Delegates. The bylaws also delegate a number of decisions to the House of Delegates. One of the largest of the delegated decisions is bylaw changes. The House of Delegates meets annually and is made up of members. All of the active affiliate organizations can send representatives to the House of Delegates. This is about 2/3 of the delegates. The remainder of the delegates are elected by the members in a direct vote.

Identifier	Return Reference	Explanation
Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 12c		Board members, officers and key employees are required to disclose any conflict of interest at the beginning and end of every board meeting. Annually, Board members sign a form acknowledging that they have read the conflict of interest policy. All volunteers (which are usually ASRT members, but not required to be except in certain circumstances such as specific committees) are required to sign the same form when they begin volunteering. For staff, the conflict of interest policy is included in the HR manual which states that they are to avoid any conflicts of interest. It also requires the employee to immediately inform their director if they or their immediate family has a conflict of interest. Each employee signs a form that acknowledges that they have received the HR manual when they are hired. The HR manual is also available on our intranet, but the employees are not required to sign anything further. Officers and key employees are required to disclose any conflict of interest at the beginning of every board meeting.

Identifier	Return Reference	Explanation
Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 15		Data on compensation for the CEO, CFO, COO and CCMO positions at organizations similar to ASRT is gathered from several sources. These sources include CEO Update Executive Compensation in Associations survey and the Guidestar National Compensation Report which are used as a starting point for an extensive review of 990 information on similar organizations. As an additional comparative the Association Compensation and Benefits Study produced by ASAE & the Center for Association Leadership is used. A report on the information along with the data is provided to the board of directors for their review. The board of directors takes direct compensation action on the CEO. The CEO is responsible for direct compensation decisions for the CFO, COO, CCMO and all other employees. Formal documentation of the discussions and decisions of the board of directors is maintained to include a rebuttable presumption checklist for the CEO position. The Chairman of the board provides a copy of this documentation and communicates the decision on CEO compensation changes to the COO who generates a compensation change notice for their signature.
