	Programs Offered by the American Political Science Association	APSA Annual Meeting	The APSA Annual Meeting is the largest conference in political science. The annual meeting typically draws 7000 participants and consists of over 900 panel sessions over a 3-1/2 day period in which the members' research is presented in a variety of formats. Most of the panel sessions involve paper presentation and discussion, although many are roundtable discussions featuring experts in the fields. Plenary sessions feature distinguished lecturers and awards are presented to distinguished writers within subfields. The meeting is held each year during the week proceeding Labor Day. The APSA Exhibition features the largest assembly of political science textbook publishers nationally, and provides publishing opportunities for the membership. Journals	APSA publishes and distributes three journals that are core to the political science discipline: the American Political Science Review, Perspectives on Politics, and PS	DSOnline/Departmental Services Program	The Departmental Services Program is a program for academic departments to provide them with current APSA publications, services and information designed to enhance research, education, and public understanding of politics. The program features DSOnline - a central location for academic departments and nonacademic institutions to participate in APSA programs, and keep abreast of developments of interest to departments, information gathering and dissemination about departments and career interests, and specialized conferences for department chairs and other administrators.	Congressional Fellowship Program	The APSA offers this highly selective, nonpartisan program devoted to expanding knowledge and awareness of Congress. For nine months, select political scientists, journalists, doctors, federal executives and international scholars gain "hands on" understanding of the legislative process by serving on congressional staffs. Through this unique opportunity, the APSA seeks to enhance public understanding of policy-making and improve the quality of scholarship, teaching and reporting on American national politics.	Centennial Center for Political Science and Public Affairs	The American Political Science Association, in recognition of its centenary, launched the Centennial Center for Political Science and Public Affairs in the fall of 2003. The Center is designed to expand opportunities for creating knowledge and promoting teaching in the discipline. It encourages individual research and writing in all fields of political science, facilitates collaboration among scholars working within the discipline and across the social and behavioral sciences and humanities, and promotes communication between scholars and policymakers.	Conference on Teaching and Learning in Political Science	The Conference on Teaching and Learning convenes annual to address issues of curriculum, pedagogy, program assessment, civic education, teaching research methods, internationalizing the curriculum, simulations and role play, inclusiveness, and equality in undergraduate and graduate teaching and learning in political science. The conference follows a working group model in which scholars engage intensively with colleagues over 2 and days of meeting, supplemented with topical workshops.	community colleges	Minority Fellowships and other initiatives	For forty years, APSA has supported scholars from underrepresented groups attend doctoral programs, through recognition and financial support from minority fellowships. More than 500 fellows have been designated in this effort.	APSA also supports the work of the Ralph Bunche Summer Institute to allow undergraduates from diverse backgrounds or with interests in broadening opportunities for students from underrepresented backgrounds to get a preview of graduate level work and to prepare.	International programs	APSA operates programs to engage with scholars from international arenas, including running summer workshops in Africa to provide opportunities for junior foreign scholars to advance basic research skills and projects.	Task Forces	APSA sponsors Task Forces marshalling the expertise of political scientists to bear on important issues within society and the profession. Task forces compile and review extant scholarly knowledge, publish summaries of this research for the public and decisions makers, prepare teaching materials, and disseminate material in other ways.

Identifier	Return Reference	Explanation
Part V, Line 4	Description of Intended Use of Endowment Funds	The endowment holds funds intended for the long-term support and growth of the Congressional Fellowship Program. These are funds the Association wishes to grow over the long term consistent with appropriate reasonable risk. The portfolio is overseen by the Trust and Development Board of Trustees, under guidelines established in an agreement between the Association and MCI Corporation.
Part X	Description of Uncertain Tax Positions Under FIN 48	The Association follows the accounting standard on accounting for uncertainty in income taxes, which addresses the determination of whether tax benefits claimed or expected to be claimed should be recorded in the financial statements. Under this guidance, the Association may recognize the tax benefit from an uncertain tax position only if it is more-likely-than-not that the tax position will be sustained upon examination by the taxing authorities, based upon the technical merits of the position. The tax benefits recognized in the financial statements from such a position are measured based on the largest benefit that has a greater than 50 percent likelihood of being realized upon ultimate settlement. The guidance on accounting for uncertainty in income taxes also addresses de-recognition, classification, interest and penalties on income taxes, and accounting in interim periods. Management evaluated the Association's tax position and concluded that the Association had taken no uncertain positions that require adjustments to the financial statements to comply with the provisions of this guidance. With few exceptions, the Association is no longer subject to U.S. federal income tax examinations by tax authorities for years before 2007.

Form 990, Part VI, Section A, line 6		With more than 15,000 members residing in over 80 countries worldwide, the American Political Science Association is the world's largest professional organization for the study of politics. Through APSA's extraordinary range of programs and services for individuals, departments, and institutions, the Association brings together political scientists from all fields of inquiry, regions, and occupational endeavors in order to expand our awareness and understanding of political life.
Form 990, Part VI, Section A, line 7a		The elective officers, except the President, shall be chosen by vote of the members of the Association attending the Annual Business Meeting, a quorum being present, provided that whenever there is a contest for any elected office or offices such elections shall be conducted by mail ballot of the entire individual membership. In the latter event the Executive Director shall distribute ballots within thirty (30) days following the Annual Business Meeting and under such other conditions as the Council may prescribe, and he or she shall count only ballots returned within thirty (30) days following distribution, each contested election, except as specified below for the President-Elect, shall be determined by a plurality of those voting on the particular office, if the number of nominees for the set of vice-presidencies or for Council membership exceeds the number of offices constitutionally to be filled, all such nominees shall appear on the mail ballot, members shall be entitled to vote for a number equal to the number of offices in the set, and the nominees ranking highest in the poll, in a number equal to the number of offices, shall be declared elected. The President-Elect shall be chosen by the above method only if there are two and only two nominees for the office. Should there be three or more nominees for President-Elect, ballots for that office shall be so designed as to enable members to designate their rank-ordered preferences by placing numbers beside the names of the nominees ("1" for first preference, "2" for second preference, and so on for each nominee). If no nominee receives at least fifty-percent-plus-one of the first preferences, other preferences shall be added from the first-preference ballots of each eliminated nominee according to the standard method of the alternative vote system, which shall be prescribed by the Council in advance of nominations, until one nominee receives at least fifty-percent-plus-one of the aggregated preferences and is declared the winner. The President-Elect shall automatically succeed to the office of President upon the completion of the President's term, or upon the occurrence of one of the contingencies provided for in section 3 of this article. The terms of elective officers, except members of the Council and the Treasurer, shall extend for one year measured from the end of the program of the Annual Meeting, except that an officer's term shall in no event expire until his or her successor assumes office. The terms of members of the Council shall extend for two years, similarly calculated, and one-half shall expire each year. The term of the Treasurer shall also extend for two years, similarly calculated.
Form 990, Part VI, Section A, line 7b		The membership of the Association duly assembled in the Annual Business Meeting or in a special meeting called shall consider policy questions brought to it, and may vote to confirm, revise, or repeal the action of the Council, or any officer. Whenever one-third or more of those present and voting at the Annual Business Meeting vote to repeal, revise, or substitute the judgment of the Meeting for an act or recommendation of the Council or of any officer, the question shall be submitted to the entire membership in a mailed, secret ballot under conditions prescribed by the Council and shall be determined by a majority of those voting by mail on the question. One hundred members shall constitute a quorum for the Annual Business Meeting. The Association shall meet annually at a time and place designated by the Council. The Council and the officers shall make every effort to acquaint the members with the business of the Association and with the issues involved in the agenda of the Annual Business Meeting or in a ballot by mail, and to provide sufficient time at business meetings for deliberations and votes.
Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 11		A copy of the form 990 is made available to the Council for their review prior to filing. The council members are instructed to contact the Executive Director or Finance Director if they have any questions regarding the return. After a reasonable period of time, the forms are filed if there are no further questions.
Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 12c		The organization's conflict of interest policy requires key employees and all members of the Council including the editors and program chairs to complete a questionnaire regarding conflicts and a list of the taxpayers council members, key employees, and vendors annually at the spring meeting in order to monitor and enforce compliance with the policy.
Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 15		A Written employment contract was established upon the hiring of the executive director. It is reviewed on a five year basis by the President and the Administrative Committee. The compensation of the person is reviewed and approved by the President and the Administrative Committee, provided that persons with conflicts of interest with respect to the compensation arrangement at issue are not involved in this review and approval. The compensation of the person is reviewed and approved using data as to comparable compensation for similarly qualified persons in functionally comparable positions at similarly situated organizations. There is contemporaneous documentation and recordkeeping with respect to the deliberations and decisions regarding the compensation arrangement.
Form 990, Part VI, Section C, line 19		the organization's governing documents, conflict of interest policy, and financial statements are made available upon request.
