	The primary exempt purpose of Goodwin House Incorporated (GHI) is achieved through the provision of a continuum of care and service for older adults at two continuing care retirement communities (CCRCs) Goodwin House Alexandria in Alexandria, Virginia, and Goodwin House Bailey's Crossroads in Falls Church, Virginia. A continuing care retirement community provides life-long care in a continuum of housing, services, and health care to older adults. In fiscal year 2010, GHI served more than 1,000 older adults ranging from 65 to 103 years of age. The CCRC continuum is provided at Goodwin House Alexandria and Goodwin House Bailey's Crossroads through residential living (609 apartments), assisted living (84 apartments), memory support households for residents with dementia and Alzheimer's Disease (28 dwellings), and nursing and rehabilitative care (137 person capacity). A significant expansion at Goodwin House Bailey's Crossroads was completed in 2010, including a new health, wellness, and memory support center and 106 new apartment residences. GHI celebrated its 55th anniversary as a non-profit corporation in fiscal year 2010. Goodwin House Alexandria has been in service to older adults for 43 years and Goodwin House Bailey's Crossroads for 23 years. Both communities have achieved full five-year re-accreditation by CCAC-CARF, the Continuing Care Accreditation Commission-Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities, a nationally recognized accreditation body. GHI and its subsidiary corporations are each governed by a volunteer, community-based Board of Trustees or Board of Directors. Goodwin House Home Care provides companion and living support services tailored to meet resident needs. Elder care management, personal care, laundry, personal escorts to appointments, companion services, shopping, and socialization are some of the services available in one-hour increments from the Goodwin House Home Care team. Approximately 29,800 hours of service were provided in fiscal year 2010 by 12 full-time certified nursing assistants and six "as needed" certified nursing assistants. Valet laundry services were provided by one full-time homemaker and one part-time homemaker. Goodwin House Hospice provides compassionate and palliative care to residents and emotional support to their families with a mission of assuring that death occurs pain-free and with dignity, and that the families of hospice residents are supported during and after the death of their loved ones. Goodwin House Hospice provided 2909 hospice service days to 65 residents in fiscal year 2010 and additionally provided information and support to seven families of non-hospice residents. Goodwin House Hospice has provided hospice service to 486 residents in 12 years of service. Goodwin House Community Services: GHI serves an additional 170 older adults through Goodwin House Community Services, a subsidiary corporation which provides management services to a sister non-profit corporation that provides housing to low and moderate income seniors in Northern Virginia. GHI provides support to the management team and Board in the areas of financial oversight, resident services, human resource management, and strategic planning. Clinical Pastoral Education: GHI extends its charitable purpose through its nationally accredited Clinical Pastoral Education Program, which in 12 years has trained more than 160 students from across the U.S. and overseas in pastoral care with older adults, and serves as a training program for students from a variety of regional theological seminaries. GHI is one of a small number of continuing care retirement communities to offer a fully accredited Clinical Pastoral Education Program and further, to link that program with its Goodwin House Hospice program.
