Other Income	1,095,450	7,550,021	1,095,450

The loss from Project/Trust funds is used for the Corporation's charitable purposes, which is the purpose of lessening the burdens of government and to erect, finance the erection of, or maintain public buildings, monuments, or works. The loss from Project/Trust funds is added back in column b in other income in order to avoid distorting the amount of net investment income in Line 27b that is subject to excise tax on this return.

Schedule #1b, Page 2, Part III, Lines 3 and 5, "Other Increases and Decreases not included":

Unrealized gain on investments 635,750

Unrealized gain on investments represents the increase in the market value of investments over the original cost of the investments. This gain is used for the Corporation's charitable purposes and is offset by an decrease in lease income or gross rent, as the Corporation's non charitable purposes are not financially liable for market increases in these investments.

Schedule #2, Page 1, Part I, Line 16b, "Accounting Fees"

Accounting fees 33,300

Accounting fees represent charges for accounting writeup and preparation of the Form 990-PF for fiscal year ended September 30, 2009 and accounting support during the fiscal year ended September 30, 2010.

Schedule #3, Page 1, Part I, Line 16c, "Other Professional Fees":

Legal, professional, and trustee fees	2,000,741

Community Finance Corporation
Form 990-PF, Year End September 30, 2010
EI #86-0683138

Schedule #5, Page 2, Part II, Line 13, "Investments-Other":

Investments under repurchase agreement #1	44,395,266
Certificates of deposit	45,365,100
United States Treasury Notes	13,542,972
Net investment in leases	674,865,596
	778,168,934

Investments under repurchase agreements are with brokers that are members of the Securities Investors Protection Corporation, and under these repurchase agreements, the brokers have guaranteed that the fair value of investments will not decline below their basis. Thus, the fair value = the book/cost basis. Agreement #1 is in effect until November 1, 2011 and also guarantees a 0.775% return on investments. In addition, investments include certificates of deposit that mature ranging from December 10, 2010 to November 1, 2013 with interest rates ranging from variable to 0.00% to 3.75%. The certificates of deposit have a cost basis of $45,744,983, resulting in an unrealized depreciation of $379,883 from their fair value of $45,365,100.

Investments also include United States Treasury Notes that mature ranging from December 31, 2010 to December 31, 2011 with interest rates ranging from 0.875% to 5.125%. The United States Treasury Notes have a cost basis of $13,835,334, resulting in an unrealized depreciation of $292,362 from their fair value of $13,542,972.

Net investment in leases represents the difference between note payable and related obligations over the cash, investments, and other assets for this activity. This difference represents the minimum lease payments required by the various local governments over the term of the leases for the real estate projects constructed/developed under these lease agreements. Fair value = the book/cost basis.

Schedule #6, Page 1, Part I, Line 19, "Depreciation" and Page 2, Part II, Line 14, "Land, Buildings, & Equipment":

Land	6,453,678
Land improvements	229,541
Buildings	107,413,460
Furniture and equipment	10,266,722
Total cost/basis	124,363,401

Addition to accumulated depreciation	4,491,815
Accumulated depreciation at 09/30/10	8,241,531

Depreciation is based on the estimated useful lives of the assets using the straight-line method. Estimated useful lives used for buildings are 30 years, for land improvements are 20 years, and for furniture and equipment is 5 years. Depreciation expense for fiscal 2009 is $3,551,482 on a straight-line basis.

Schedule #10, Page 8, Part X, " Minimum Investment Return ".

In performing the calculations required for Part X, the only assets available to make charitable distributions is the cash available in a checking accounts in the name of Community Finance Corporation or its underlying disregarded tax entities. This represents the calculated average of monthly cash balances of $754,456 used in Part X (which also includes $790,148 in cash – non – interest bearing as of the end of year book value on Page 2, Part II line 1 on the Balance Sheet). All other assets on the balance sheet are not included in the calculations in Part X because they represent assets on deposit with trustee/fiscal agents that are permanently restricted and cannot be accessed by Community Finance Corporation based on the provisions of legal documents such as trust indentures, loan agreements, promissory notes, and management agreements. These assets are on deposit with trustee/fiscal agents and are the result of the issuance of publicly financed bond issues. The acceptance of notes payable proceeds from publicly financed bond issues results in the availability of assets on deposit with trustee/fiscal agents for the purpose of lessening the burdens of government and to erect, finance the erection of, or maintain public buildings, monuments, or works, which is the purpose of Community Finance Corporation's tax exempt status. Finally, these assets are not included in the calculations in Part X because they meet the definition of "assets that are actually used or held for use by the organization for a charitable, educational, or other similar function that contributed to the charitable status of the foundation". By definition, the only assets included in Part X calculations are "only those assets that are not actually used or held for use by the organization for a charitable, educational, or other similar function that contributed to the charitable status of the foundation".

Schedule #11, Page 11, Part XV, " Supplementary Information", Question 3 "Grants and Contributions Paid During the Year".

It is the policy of the Community Finance Corporation to make charitable contributions to existing 501(c)(3) public entities that provide programs or services that have the primary purpose of the lessening of the burdens of government. More specifically, Community Finance Corporation will consider programs that will provide community social service or community economic development.

In fiscal 2010, Community Finance Corporation made a $50,000 donation to the United Way of Tucson and Southern Arizona for the purpose of funding an early childhood education program, which met the criteria of community social service. In addition, in fiscal 2010, Community Finance Corporation made a $50,000 donation to the Microbusiness Advancement Center for the purpose of an unrestricted donation for economic development, which met the criteria of community economic development. Also, in fiscal 2010, Community Finance Corporation made a $25,000 donation to the University of Arizona Foundation/DAVINCHI Scholarship Fund for the purpose of a scholarship program for engineering students, which met the criteria of community social service. Also, in fiscal 2010, Community Finance Corporation made a $25,000 donation to the Community Foundation for Southern Arizona for the Tucson Values Teachers Fund for the purpose of purchasing classroom supplies through Walgreens, which met the criteria of community social service. Finally, in fiscal 2010, Community Finance Corporation made a $25,000 donation to the University of Arizona Foundation/Arizona Assurance for the purpose of funding a needs based program started by the president of the University of Arizona, which met the criteria of community social service.

All five of these donations are intended to lessen/reduce the burdens of government.
