Form 990, Part III, Line 1 - Organization Mission

Do Something, Inc. ("the organization") is a not-for-profit Organization founded in 1993 to advocate and promote youth social leadership, community activism and citizenship. Today it is also known as DoSomething.org, and is one of the largest organizations in the United States that helps young people rock causes they care about. A driving force in creating a culture of volunteerism, DoSomething.org is on track to activate two million young people in 2011. By leveraging the web, television, mobile and pop culture, DoSomething.org inspires, empowers and celebrates a generation of doers: teenagers who recognize the need to do something, believe in their ability to get it done, and then take action.

The services are largely directed to young people (ages 13-25) who want to make a difference, but need help actively participating and leading in community change efforts. There are some programs for established social entrepreneurship, as young people look largely to their peers for role models and support.

Cause of the Month: Every month, Do Something focuses on a new featured cause. It has to be fun and easy for young people to make real change. Clear information on the cause and a simple call to action is given. The call to action has to be something that young people can do that doesn't require cash, cars or adults. Over 700,000 young people participated in these campaigns in 2010.

Clubs- These are youth-led groups of five or more people in communities across the country. Our Clubs create and post volunteer projects to our site. In return, they receive recognition and support to make their projects happen. Over 60,000 people belonged to Do Something Clubs in 2010.

Boot Camps- The organization runs day-long sessions for young social entrepreneurs. There were over 600 attendees in six events in 2010. We live stream the event to online audiences; this resulted in over 25,000 viewers in 2010.

Grants- The organization gives out grants ranging from $500 to $100,000. We are the only organization to directly fund young people without requiring an adult.

Do Something Awards- One of the premiere programs for the organization; it awards a $100,000 grant to a young person making a significant impact on a social issue. This national award inspires a whole generation and was televised live on VH1 in July 2010.
