Part III, Line 28 – Endowment Grant ($3,000)

The Friends continue to make an annual contribution to the library's endowment despite the fact that we completed our $100,000 pledge in 2003. By helping the library maintain an increasing endowment, we ensure the financial stability of our library, which allows all that goes on in our library to continue.

Part III, Line 29 - Support Grants ($44,500) paid directly to the library help increase the book and other collections and materials, support programs and activities and help with the purchase of computers and other equipment for patrons of all ages. The largest grant ($20,000) was used for purchase of books and related materials to supplement the library's collections.

The library's 2010 summer reading club, "Make a Splash...Read", was very successful. A total of 446 children, 51 young adults and 72 adults participated in the program with a combined total of 5,753 books read. In addition to the reading club, 214 programs were provided to library patrons (165 children's programs, 41 young adult programs and 8 adult programs). In all, the library reached out to over 6,000 area children, teens and adults. The most popular of these programs were the Thursday performances funded by the Friends of the Library. These programs were provided free of charge to the public and special groups and averaged 321 attendees per program.

The Friends gave a grant of $18,000 in December of 2010 so that the staff could begin planning earlier for their 2011 programs. The largest part of this grant ($9,000) was for 2011 summer reading programs.

The Friends' grant of $3,000 for volunteer support and recognition enabled the library to thank more than 150 volunteers who give tirelessly to support the work of the library.

A grant of $3,500 was also given to support continuing education for staff training and additional unspecified services, programs and activities that the library determines worthwhile to pursue during the course of the year.

Part III, Line 30 - Books for Babies Program – This literacy program, new in 2007, acquaints parents of newborns with the important role they play in the development of their children. Initially, the Friends purchased 600 copies of “The Big Red Barn” by Margaret Wise Brown and bags imprinted with the Library’s “Wise Owl” logo in which the books were placed along with pamphlets about the Library’s collections, programs and services. During 2010, 850 additional books, “Goodnight Moon” by Margaret Wise Brown and “Mommy Loves Her Bunny” by Josephine Page were purchased along with 1,000 bags imprinted with the Library’s logo. On average 50 books are distributed each month to new mothers at the local hospital. ($2,536)

Part III, Line 31 - Other program services that carry out the purposes of our organization are the Books Sandwiched In Program and the Short Story Contest. There are no charges for persons attending or participating in either of these:

Books Sandwiched In – Each year this very popular series of 6 book reviews presented during January and February draws an average of 70-75 people per week to the library. Reviews of current, popular or noteworthy books are given by well-known people in the community. Costs of the program are for advertising, refreshments and gift cards given to the presenters. ($238)

Short Story Contest – In 2010, the 29th Annual Contest for children in grades 5 to 8 was held. Its purpose is to encourage creative writing. Over 100 student entries were received in 2010. These entries were read and judged blind by a panel of 14 judges, including local writers, poets, librarians, teachers and college professors. Awards to winners were presented in a special ceremony at the library. All winning stories are put into a bound anthology and copies were distributed to area schools as well as kept in the library so anyone interested can read the stories judged to be outstanding. Costs of the program are for gift cards presented to the winners, certificates for runners-up, and refreshments for the Writers’ Tea and Awards ceremony. ($236)
