FORM 990	PART XII, LINE 1	The financial statements of the Foundation have been prepared on the income tax basis of accounting. This method of presentation is a comprehensive basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles and therefore precludes the strict application of many professional pronouncements, however, management believes this presentation will conform more closely to the Foundation's actual basis of operation, and thereby be of more value to the users than would financial statements presented under generally accepted accounting principles. Under that basis, certain revenues and the related assets are recognized when received rather than when earned and certain expenses are recognized when paid rather than when the obligation is incurred. Consequently, the Foundation has not recognized accounts receivable from contributors and third party agencies or accounts payable to vendors and their related effects on net assets in the financial statements.
