Quivira determined no material unrecognized tax benefits or liabilities exist as of December 31, 2010 and 2009. If applicable, Quivira will recognize interest and penalties related to underpayment of income taxes as income tax expense. benefits and no amounts related to accrued interest and penalties. Quivira does not anticipate any significant changes to unrecognized tax benefits over the next year.

Management of Quivira believes its activities allow it to continue to be classified as an organization exempt from income tax under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and believes there are no activities subject to unrelated business income tax. Quivira files federal Form 990, Return of Organization Exempt from Income Tax, with the Internal Revenue Service and copies of Form 990 with states in which Quivira is registered, as required. The statute of limitations for examination of Quivira's returns expires three years from the due date of the return or the date filed, whichever is later. Quivira's returns for the years ended December 31, 2007 through 2009, are still open for examination and management anticipates the statute of limitations for the return for the year ended December 31, 2010, will expire in November 2014.
