Form 990, Part III, Line 4a, Program Service Accomplishments:

Award recipients are selected annually from hundreds of applications in a competitive, three-tier review process. Scholar selection is organized by staff and carried out by about 200 community volunteers. Three full-time and one part-time staff manage the national organization with the help of volunteers and interns who assist with daily operations, special projects and events.

Most JRF scholars are heads of their households (85% of 2010 scholars), and more than half (53% in 2010) are first in their families to go to college. Despite the challenges faced by these groups and nontraditional students in general, JRF scholars are succeeding. According to the annual scholar update survey, 92% of 2010 respondents have graduated or are still enrolled in classes.

The full value of a college education cannot be quantified, but when you look at the median salary for women based on degree, it's clear that education makes a huge impact in earning potential: $27,404 for a high school graduate; $32,604 with an Associate's Degree; and $46,020 with a Bachelor's Degree (according to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics and Census Bureau based on the first quarter of 2009). JRF scholarships help women achieve financial independence, better provide for their families and make a difference in their communities. We extend our heartfelt gratitude to the generous individuals, family foundations, and businesses who help women change their lives through education.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 11: The return preparer sends a copy of the Form 990 to management for distribution to the board members for their review and approval before the return is filed.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 12c: The JRF Conflict of Interest Policy covers all board members and officers of the organization (interested persons). All interested persons are required to disclose annually any conflicts of interest that arise. The Board of Directors determines whether a conflict of interest exists after reviewing the matter with the interested person. Any interested person who engages in a transaction that creates a conflict of interest is precluded from voting on matters pertaining to the transaction. Whenever there is a violation of the Conflict of Interest Policy, the Board of Directors informs the interested person(s) about the conflict and takes appropriate corrective action. The Board of Directors is responsible for conducting periodic reviews to ensure compliance with the Conflict of Interest Policy.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 15: Compensation for each JRF employee is determined as part of their annual performance review. Salary increases are considered based on merit, promotion, cost of living adjustments, and JRF financial condition. The Executive Committee determines the compensation of the Executive Director. The Executive Director determines the compensation for all other employees, subject to Executive Committee approval. All compensation decisions are documented in the Executive Committee minutes.
