Process for Determining Compensation	Part VI, Section B, Line 15	Annual performance appraisals are conducted. The Executive Director is responsible for conducting reviews of each of the Directors, the Board of Directors conducts the annual review of the Executive Director. Salary increases are granted to an employee based on job performance. The most important single determinant of whether a merit increase has been earned is the supervisor's rating of the person's performance. The employee's self-appraisal also provides key information that is used by the supervisor to determine overall performance. When an increase is given, the amount of the increase depends on the following variables: (1) The supervisor's evaluation of performance against the accountabilities of the position and against any goals mutually established previously by the supervisor and the employee; (2) Where the employee's current salary stands in relation to the position's salary range. In regards to the compensation of the Executive Director, the salary level is based on compensation surveys and other data from the Colorado Nonprofit Association, as well as the compensation levels at other similarly-situated organizations. This information, along with the annual performance appraisal, is presented by the Human Resources manager to the Executive Committee for review. Once the compensation level has been reviewed by the Executive Committee, the Executive Committee then presents it to the Board of Directors, where it is subject to review and approval. The Executive Committee maintains documentation of its deliberations and decisions regarding the compensation setting process in its minutes. The compensation levels for other officers and key employees is set through a similar process. The salary levels are based on compensation surveys and other data from the Colorado Nonprofit Association, as well as the compensation levels at other similarly-situated organizations. This information, along with the annual performance appraisal, is presented to the Executive Committee for review and approval. The Executive Committee maintains the necessary documentation regarding the compensation setting process in its minutes.
