		The board of directors, through the Executive Committee, retains an independent outside consultant to provide guidance with respect to the annual establishment of the rebuttable presumption or reasonableness relative to executive compensation and benefits. The consultant annually provides detailed market information from its annual Executive Compensation Survey of Health Systems. In addition, other regional survey data is provided in order to supply the health system with a "national" picture of compensation. With this process established, the executive compensation committee takes the proper steps to educate the Board of Directors to understand all of the above mentioned oversight and to appropriately prepare them for community or media inquiry. In addition, the Board is made aware of the form 990 and its role in the communication of information to the public.
