Form 990-EZ, Part III, Primary Exempt Purpose - Using philanthropy as a vehicle, YouthRoots engages high school students in personal development, community partnerships and innovative ventures to foster leadership, integrity and social action, therefore cultivating a network of thriving adults who envision a better future and realize their full human potential.

Our program is designed to do what the root of the word means: to love humankind while realizing your full human potential. The program's design uses philanthropy (charitable giving) as the experiential classroom to teach 15 teens how to change the world. This model incorporates all the tools and mindsets necessary to enact change in our World. This involves various personality, communication and teamwork assessments.

On the philanthropy side of things, they will conduct a needs assessment of their community to determine the top three funding priorities. Once they finish fundraising for the three issues, the youth will get the chance to practice their new found skills.
