Form 990, Part VI, Line 12C		All Covered Persons shall disclose in writing any possible conflict of interest with regard to a proposed transaction or arrangement, as well as all material facts related thereto, to the Board and to the appropriate Board committee, if any, at the earliest practicable time. After a possible conflict of interest has been disclosed, the Board or committee shall discuss and, if necessary, investigate alternatives to the proposed transaction or arrangement. Ultimately, the Board or committee shall determine whether the College can obtain a more advantageous transaction or arrangement with reasonable efforts from a person that would not give rise to a conflict of interest and, if such alternative transaction or arrangement is not feasible, whether the proposed transaction or arrangement is in the College's best interest and will not compromise or have the appearance of compromising the College's academic and fiscal integrity. The interested person shall refrain from participating in the discussion concerning and from voting on the issue that presents the conflict of interest or the appearance of a conflict of interest, and may be asked to leave the meeting during discussion of and/or the vote on the issue.

Identifier	Return Reference	Explanation
Form 990, Part VI, Line 15		Since the 1980s, Washington College has pursued a Board-authorized aspiration to compensate faculty, on average, at the all-ranks average of institutions with a Carnegie classification of IIB (private, independent). However, a similar standard for administrative staff was not in operation. To develop such a norm, the College retained the services of Watson Wyatt, a global human resources consulting firm, to assist in establishing a new staff compensation program. Based upon staff focus groups, a thorough review of staff position descriptions, and a benchmarking of then current staff pay levels with the competitive marketplace, Watson Wyatt developed, and the administration implemented, the following Compensation Philosophy. Washington College's staff compensation programs are designed to be competitive with peer institutions and comparable, premier employers. Our programs are designed to reward performance and contributions that lead to improved operational results. o Following best practices and to ensure competitiveness, Washington College builds our pay opportunities around the median of the target market. (Market is defined as either comparator IIB colleges or the local labor market depending on the position.) o Individual pay determinations involve consideration of incumbents' experience, performance, and contributions. o The College is committed to meritocracy. Our performance management program is designed to increase the personal and professional effectiveness of our staff including providing staff with clear performance expectations and developmental opportunities. We provide leaders with the tools and training to enable them to build effective teams and lead successfully including coaching performance and making sound compensation decisions. Decisions regarding compensation programs, as well as individual pay decisions, will be made based on the above objectives as well as the College's financial situation. Each spring, the Chief of Staff prepares an analysis of compensation provided to competitor IIB college presidents using data analysis conducted by the college and university personnel association (CUPA-HR). The resulting spreadsheet is provided to the Vice-Chair, along with the Executive Market-Based Level Range, to inform any pay adjustment recommendation that might emerge from the subcommittee's annual assessment of the president's performance. The report of the subcommittee, along with any pay adjustment recommendation, is presented to the full Board of Visitors and Governors for review and approval in Executive Session. Any decision by the Board of Visitors and Governors is recorded in the minutes of that meeting.
