JUNIOR TENNIS CHAMPIONS CENTER

AT THE

TENNIS CENTER AT COLLEGE PARK

2010 - 2011

The Junior Tennis Champions Center (JTCC) strives to be the best training center in the world for young tennis players from their introduction to the game through top-tier collegiate and professional competition. Inspired by a love of children and the sport of tennis, the JTCC has an unwavering commitment to developing tennis champions who uphold the highest competitive, ethical, and personal values as they realize their full potential.

As a not-for-profit 501(c)(3) organization, the JTCC can most effectively focus the resources required for each child's development. In recognition of the substantial costs associated with long-term tennis training, tuition is subsidized for every student-athlete at the JTCC without regard to race, gender, national origin, ethnicity, or socioeconomic background.

In the summer of 1999, the JTCC's roster included a handful of youngsters with potential and energy. Through effective coaching, lots of hard work, and free tryouts over the next few years, our program grew steadily. In 2002, our first graduate headed for Yale University and its men's varsity team.

In 2006, the JTCC program consists of thirty regionally, nationally and internationally ranked players. We bid a fond farewell to six graduates headed for academic and tennis pursuits at top educational institutions, including Vanderbilt, University of Virginia, University of Wisconsin, University of Alabama, University of Maryland and West Point.

The best is yet to come as the JTCC embarks upon its next five years. A superb staff is in place, the plans and programs are highly developed and still improving, the unique Coach-Mentor system is proving its worth, and many of our student-athletes are achieving world-class results.

THE CHAMPIONS CENTER MISSION STATEMENT

The Junior Tennis Champions Center strives to be the best training program in the world for young tennis players, from their first steps into the game through to college and professional competition. The not-for-profit Champions Center has an unwavering commitment to developing tennis champions who uphold the highest competitive, ethical and personal values on their way to realizing their full potential. Through tennis training, mentoring, community service and tutoring, the Champions Center strives to lead Champions on and off the court - Champions for Life.

Key Aspects

Academic Performance:

The Champions Center values academic performance and makes participation in the tennis program contingent on good academic standing. The Champions Center houses a small in-house school for students who are ready to commit to a more rigorous training schedule, however, academics comes first. Two highly qualified teachers administer a challenging curriculum offered by Laurel Springs, a fully accredited online school. This combination of real life teaching and 21st century technology provides our students with the discipline and flexibility they need to excel academically and athletically.

Mentoring:

The most unique and important part of our program is our mentoring. Each player in the program has a coach mentor who oversees his or her players' training, academics, tournament schedule and general character development. Coaches tackle issues related to: competing with integrity, self-esteem, diet, parental involvement and time management. We believe that our mentoring relationships help to create a community of values and we encourage players to become mentors in their own communities.

Character Building:

Tennis can be a vehicle for greatness. Our philosophy and program seeks to help our young players become "Champions for Life". Through tennis, our juniors learn self-discipline, integrity and problem-solving skills that will enable them to succeed in whatever career endeavors they choose.

Community Service:

We are committed to involving our players in community service and volunteerism. Our Community Service often takes the form of student-to-student coaching and peer mentoring. Studies have shown that peer mentoring is one of the most effective ways to reinforcing positive behavior. Students also give back to the program in other ways including administration, letter writing, maintenance and fundraising. Community service is not an option, it's an obligation for all students.

Community Impact:

Twenty percent of our players come from low-income families. This year we will offer more than $150,000 in financial aid to these students. In addition, our prices are subsidized to make our program affordable to middle class families. Most of our students could not afford our program without subsidized pricing or financial aid.

World-Class Tennis Training:

The Champions Center has a highly qualified and experienced international coaching staff consisting of former professional, Davis Cup, and top college players. All of our senior coaches have a High Performance coaching certification (the highest level of certification offered by the United States Tennis Association) and are students of the game.
