	Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 12c	To demonstrate to the community the integrity of the WHWF allocation process, Board members must provide written disclosure any conflict of interest with organizations that have applied for financial assistance to the WHWF. Such conflict can be described as involvement with the organization, its board, the program or personnel. Board members will be expected to refrain from participation in the allocation deliberations as it relates to a conflict. A possible exception is when a Board member has information pertaining to the organization or program that the Board deems essential to decision-making. Board meeting minutes will serve as a record of any board member being determined as unqualified to participate in funding decisions. Conflict of interest statements are kept on file and updated annually or sooner as needed.
