What is the organization's primary exempt purpose?

The Mission of Creatives for Causes is to use the power of one-on-one creative mentoring to help low-income children develop exciting new visions of themselves, discover their creative gifts, boost their self-esteem and increase their motivation to learn. The children are paired, one-on-one, with creative mentors in a program called Art Buddies. Art Buddies pairs 160 creative professionals annually---including art directors, graphic designers, illustrators, architects, photographers, writers---one-on-one with 160 inner-city kids. Each program features workshops from 7-10 weeks and each workshop has a different theme. For example, the "Career Dreams" theme helps kids explore who they want to be when they grow up, then create exciting and unique images of themselves as successful adults. The "Kids Rule!" theme helps kids imagine they rule the world, then create a fanciful costume showing how they would use their power to help people. Mentors also help the kids develop writing and storytelling.

Describe what was achieved in carrying out the organization's exempt purposes. In a clear and concise manner, describe the services provided, the number of persons benefited, and other relevant information for each program title.

28 In fiscal year 2010-11, we served 80 children, ages 8-11, from low-income families in the Whittier neighborhood of south Minneapolis. All the kids were eligible for free or reduced-cost meals, and 98% were children of color. They were an ethnically-diverse group which included African Americans, Hispanics, Asians, and Somalis. We recruited 80 creative mentors to work one-on-one with the children. We produced two After-School Art Buddies programs, one in the fall and one in the spring. Our mentors helped the children do the following: 1. Form a positive relationship with a creative adult; 2. Discover their creative potential; 3. Boost self-esteem by creating something ambitious and unique; 4. Increase their motivation to learn; 5. Learn about exciting creative careers; 6. Explore new possibilities for their future. The children's teachers and principal confirmed the positive impact of the Art Buddies program. The teachers observed student improvement in problem-solving ability, behavior, attitude, motivation to learn, school attendance and social skills. They noted that the mastery students developed in Art Buddies, as well as the positive relationships they formed with creative adults, enhanced their students' self-esteem.
