The programs and projects that were started in the previous fiscal year, continue to be supported. However, in this fiscal year that ended August 31, 2011, TLW has continued their services and projects in some of the same communities and added other needy communities to the areas of their operation. In Dominican Republic and Haiti, they continue to support churches and their programs that provide help to the needy in various ways such as food, employment, healthcare, and much more. TLW offers multiple English/Bible classes for all ages. They assist many children and families with their special needs. In Dajabon, Dominican Republic, they provide for Haitians and Dominicans a much needed school for deaf children. They provide desperate children answers to homelessness, food shortages, education, healthcare issues, and more. Also, TLW provides classes to all ages for teaching them English, Bible, and trade school type training. They have financially provided medical care and medicine to individuals. They help numerous children who live on the streets of these border towns. In the Port au Prince area of Haiti, TLW has an orphanage for 54 children whereas they provide the deprived children with shelter, food, affection, protection, healthcare, and education. Also, TLW helps to support a school for approximately 300 children in an area where less than 25% of children get any opportunity to obtain an education.
