In fiscal year 2009, the Laboratory adopted guidance which requires recognition of the benefit of a tax position only after determining that the relevant tax authority would more-likely-than-not sustain the position following an audit. For tax positions meeting the more-likely-than-not threshold, the amount recognized in the financial statements is the largest benefit that has a greater than 50 percent likelihood of being realized upon ultimate settlement with the relevant taxing authority. SchI_P01_S00_L02	Schedule I, Part I, Line 2	The Grants Accountant and Controller oversee all grant, contract or cooperative agreement awards compliance. This includes establishing a new job center for each award, reconciling allowable expenses to the sponsor's requirements, accounting of all costs on active awards, ensuring grant, contract or cooperative agreement expenses do not exceed the award revenues, completing all billing to government and private agencies, and completing a financial close-out of all finished awards assuring proper reporting to federal and non-federal agencies.
SchI_P03_S00_L00	Schedule I, Part III	Research award oversight is provided by the Office of the Chief Academic and Scientific Officer (CASO). Research award applications are reviewed by a committee of internal and external scientists, who forward their recommendations to the President/CEO of MBL and CASO, who make the final determination of specific awards and award amount. The CASO then forwards an acceptance letter and contract to each awardee, listing the terms and reporting requirements of the award. The CASO office then tracks the awardee's research progress and expenditures through their stay at MBL to ensure that the awardees stay closely within budget, and reviews the required report due approximately one month after the completion of the term covered by the research award. Scholarships are awarded by the Education Office from grants and contributions, many of which have limitations on who and what the scholarship may be awarded to, including the nationality, home institution, and course being taken. The Education Director determines the amount and if a student is eligible for a scholarship according to these limitations. Awards are first used to cover tuition costs and then room and board and travel expense if the amount awarded allows this.
