SPECIAL EVENT EXPENSES $296,569	PART XII LINE 2D & PART XIII LINE 2D
ASC 740	PART X LINE 2	On April 25, 2001, the Internal Revenue Service granted the Organization an exemption from federal taxes under Section 501 (a) of the Internal Revenue Code as an organization described in Section 501(c)(3) However, certain activities of exempt organizations, to the extent profitable, may be subject to Federal and State taxation as unrelated business income With respect to unrelated business activities, the Organization recognizes income taxes under the asset and liability method Under this method, deferred tax assets and liabilities are established for temporary differences between the accounting bases and the tax bases of the Organization's assets and liabilities at enacted tax rates expected to be in effect when the amounts related to such temporary differences are realized or settled Deferred tax expense or benefit is the result of changes in deferred tax assets and liabilities A valuation allowance is recorded against deferred tax assets for the portion of the asset that management believes is more likely than not to not be realized The Organization recognizes the financial statement benefit of a tax position only after determining that the relevant tax authority would more likely than not sustain the position following an audit For tax positions meeting the more-likely-than-not threshold, the amount recognized in the financial statements is the largest benefit that has a greater than 50 percent likelihood of being realized upon ultimate settlement with the relevant tax authority There have been no material changes in unrecognized benefits since adoption It is the Organization's policy to record estimated interest and penalties (if any) as part of general and institutional expense Management believes that the Organization's income tax returns for years ended December 31, 2008 and prior are no longer subject to examination by tax authorities in its major tax jurisdictions
