Also complete this part to provide any additional information.

Consistent with its mission to encourage appreciation of the art of portraiture and to enhance its support of the National Portrait Gallery in London, the organization's acquisition of an important and extensive collection of photographic portraits of Queen Elizabeth II covering the first 50 years of her reign will enable it to arrange for the public display of these portraits at the Gallery and at other museums and galleries and for their study and analysis at academic institutions. The acquired portraits provide an important record of the Queen's reign and, with the current heightened interest in the Queen's Diamond Jubilee, will be publicly displayed at the Gallery through a loan arrangement with the Gallery. The diverse group of photographers represented in the collection also will facilitate examination of the role of the portrait in chronicling history and its effect on the Queen.

Part V Supplemental Information

Complete this part to provide the information required by Part I, line 2 (monitoring of funds); Part I, line 3, column (f) (accounting method; amounts of investments vs. expenditures per region); Part II, line 1 (accounting method); Part III (accounting method); and Part III, column (c) (estimated number of recipients), as applicable. Also complete this part to provide any additional information (see instructions).

Part 1 Line 2: The principal recipient of grants by the organization is the National Portrait Gallery of London, a world renowned publicly-supported art institution that recently celebrated its 150th Anniversary (the "Gallery"). As the Gallery is well-known to the organization by reason of their close working relationship and frequent contacts and because the Gallery's financial accounts are publicly available and thus readily accessible by the organization, the organization is uniquely able to monitor the use of its grants to the Gallery. In many instances the organization's grants to the Gallery are designated for particular public exhibitions at the Gallery. When grants by the organization to the Gallery are intended for the general support of the Gallery's operations, the use of such grants by the Gallery is monitored by reviewing the Gallery's financial accounts.

Part VI Question 11a: After the 990 is prepared by the Treasurer it is sent to the Trustees for their review.

They review it based upon their knowledge of the organization.

Question 12c: In accordance with its Conflict of Interest Policy, the Organization annually asks each Trustee to complete a Conflict of Interest questionnaire form. The completed forms are submitted to the Treasurer, who reports to the Board of Trustees on any conflicts reported on these completed forms. The Board (excluding any Trustee who may have reported a conflict) reviews and discusses any conflict information reported in any of these forms and determines whether such conflict would preclude the subject Trustee from participating in the decision with respect to any matter in which the subject Trustee may have a conflict of a personal, financial or business nature. For example, during 2011, the Board was aware that its Chair had been a member of the board of the National Portrait Gallery (as disclosed in response to Form 990, Part IV, Question 28c), but unanimously approved the organization's 2011 transactions with the National Portrait Gallery (as reported elsewhere in this Form 990), concluding that such potential conflict did not necessarily preclude the organization from proceeding with its 2011 grant and its 2011 loan of portraits to the National Portrait Gallery.

Question 19: The organization did not receive any requests for data from the public in 2011. The organization's Form 990 is available through the web at Guidestar.org. The organization will provide copies of legally required documents by mail or e-mail.
