990 Synopsis of Stop Hunger Now GIK Policy

Gift-in-Kind (GIK) donations will be received by Stop Hunger Now based on the known needs of our partners and deemed necessary to further the mission of Stop Hunger Now.

Stop Hunger Now has established a policy governing the acceptance, use, and valuation of Gift-In-Kind donations that is reviewed annually by the Audit & Finance Committee. Stop Hunger Now strives to ensure that this policy reflects industry best practice and available IRS guidance.

To be aware of and adhere to industry best practice, Stop Hunger Now retains membership in InterAction, the largest alliance of U.S.-based international nongovernmental organizations (NGOs), which has more than 190 members working in every developing country. Stop Hunger Now adheres to InterAction's comprehensive Private Voluntary Standards. Specific to pharmaceutical GIK donations, Stop Hunger Now also adheres to the Principals and Standards in Comprehensive Management of Medical Product Donations set forth by the Partnership for Quality Medical Donations (PQMD). Stop Hunger Now's GIK policy also adheres to the core principals of the World Health Organization standards on medical donations.

It is Stop Hunger Now's policy to represent the value of GIK donations fairly and accurately in accordance with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles. Value will be determined in uniform ways consistent with methods used by other established non-profit organizations and with guidance available from the Internal Revenue Service.

Stop Hunger Now will request that the donor provide a fair market value for each donation received. If the donor's valuation methodology is in agreement with current standards, Stop Hunger Now will record the value provided by the partner. If the donor is unable to provide fair market value, Stop Hunger Now will determine fair market value based on independent sources. Sources of this information will vary but will reflect the actual cost to Stop Hunger Now if products were to be purchased in the US market. These sources may include manufacturer's published wholesale pricelists or other internet-based wholesale resources.

Specific to pharmaceuticals, donations of U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA)-approved products received from manufacturers or distributors will be valued at a percentage of Average Whole Price (AWP). AWP information will be determined from such resources as Redbook, published by Thomson Reuters.

For pharmaceutical products that do not have an exact US equivalent and for which the donor is unable to provide fair market value, fair market value will be based on the closest formulation available in the US market. In this case, Stop Hunger Now will then record a percentage of the AWP for that product.
