After preparation a thorough review is performed internally by the Foundation's Director of Finance and externally by outside legal counsel to the Foundation. Copies of the prepared form are also distributed to the members of the Board of Directors prior to filing with the IRS.
part VI, section b, line 12c	conflict of interest policy	To ensure the Young America's Foundation operates in a manner consistent with charitable purposes and does not engage in activities that could jeopardize its tax-exempt status, periodic reviews shall be conducted. The periodic reviews shall, at a minimum, include the following subjects: a. Whether partnerships, joint ventures, and arrangements with management organizations conform to the Young America's Foundation's written policies, are properly recorded, reflect reasonable investment or payments for goods and services, further charitable purposes and do not result in inurement, impermissible private benefit or in an excess benefit transaction. The Foundation is keenly aware of the rules relating to conflict of interest. Directors are recused from any discussion and votes on all matters on which they have a potential or actual conflict.
part VI, section b, line 15	compensation	Each year the president's compensation is determined by the Board of Directors Compensation Committee, which is made up of three independent directors. This information is obtained from Form 990's for the respective organizations via Guidestar and salaries reported on the Charity Navigator's website. The Committee also considers the president's exclusive and fulltime commitment to Young America's Foundation, his over 30 years experience as a foundation executive and attorney, his contacts in the conservative community, and the hours he works as additional factors in setting his salary and benefits. Contemporaneous substantiation of the compensation committee's 2011 discussion and decision is maintained as part of the corporate records. Additionally, the president reviews employee performance and experience in setting the compensation for the remainder of the Foundation's staff.
