4a (Code:) (Expenses $ 123,495 including grants of $ 100,000) (Revenue $ 0)
 NACF Artist Fellowships

Grantmaking is a basic component of our mission. In 2011 we launched our first artist fellowship program for Native artists in visual arts, filmmaking, music, dance, and literature to promote further development of their talents. The Artist Fellowships honor Native artists that have made a significant impact in their discipline, are respected by their colleagues and in the greater arts field, and who are emerging as powerful voices in the arts.

Supporting those voices is our goal for the fellowships, which provide the artists with the opportunity for study, reflection, experimentation, and discovery.

4b (Code:) (Expenses $ 135,344 including grants of $ 110,000) (Revenue $ 0)
 Artist Networks and Convenings Initiative

As part of our continuing effort to nurture the activities of artistic communities, we support projects that foster beneficial alliances between artists. In 2011 particular consideration was given to organizations presenting arts conferences, convening groups of artists, or supporting master artist to artist residencies in the development of connections between artists from different regions, across disciplines, or who share in the same practices. Of critical importance to the projects awarded in 2011 was the development of artistic and cultural practice and the opportunity for artists and culture bearers to network and collaborate. In those settings, artists and culture bearers will focus on best practices, professional development, change in their fields, their relationship to local, national and global communities, and the exchange of knowledge and technical skills.

We expect the outcomes of those opportunities will provide increased communication in the field, deepen the connection between artists, and most importantly, establish a foundation for continued collaboration, exchange, and relationship building.

4c (Code:) (Expenses $ 123,495 including grants of $ 100,000) (Revenue $ 0)
 Artist and Community Collaboration Initiative

As part of our strategy to foster artistic activities in Native communities, in 2011 we invited Native artists to partner with tribal entities and nonprofit organizations to collaborate on artworks that integrated the community into artistic practice. Artists and organizations were encouraged to plan projects in which the creation of an artwork was central to the project and in which the artist functioned primarily as an agent for community development.

We expect that the artist's work will serve as an interface for community participation, engaging the community in the artist's work, and use the making of art to help strengthen the community, draw attention to an important issue, and engage community members in new ways.

Form 990 Part III Line 1

Our goal is to create a permanently endowed fund to revitalize, strengthen, and promote the arts and cultures of the Native peoples residing in America to ensure cultural continuity for Native peoples and support for present and future generations of Native artists through grants to individual Native artists and to organizations that serve Native artists and provide Native arts and cultural activities, by establishing a national infrastructure to strengthen connections among local and regional Native arts and cultural efforts and create partnerships with other philanthropic institutions to leverage resources for Native arts and cultures, by encouraging financial support and other forms of support of Native arts and cultures by Native leaders, communities, foundations, government entities, and others, by supporting tribal and other Native communities in their preservation and education efforts related to their arts, cultures, and identities, and educate the American public regarding Native arts and cultures

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 11 The form is prepared internally and reviewed with our finance committee of the board of directors

The form is then distributed to the full board prior to filing

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 12c Each director, officer, and staff member must annually sign a statement that affirms that such person has (a) received a copy of our conflict of interest policy, (b) has read and understands this policy, and (c) has agreed to comply with our policy. Compliance includes the following provisions

Whenever any director, officer, or staff member becomes aware that we are considering a transaction that potentially creates a conflict of interest, that person is obligated to notify the board and to disclose all material facts relating to the person's interest in the transaction

The board will determine whether an actual conflict of interest exists and take action that the board deems appropriate. The interested person may not be present when the board makes its determination other than to answer questions. If no conflict of interest is found to exist, the minutes of the meeting must record the basis of the board's determination

If the board determines that a transaction would create a conflict of interest the transaction must be approved in advance by only those board members who do not have a conflict with respect to the transaction. Any interested person therefore must excuse themselves from consideration of the transaction. Such person may not vote on the transaction or be present during any discussion of the transaction other than to answer questions. Interested persons may be counted for the purpose of determining existence of a quorum

Form 990, Part VI, Section C, Line 19 Our governing documents, conflict of interest policy, and financial statements are made available to the public upon request. In 2012 we expect to post our financial statements and Form 990 on our website.

Form 990, Part XI, Line 5 Changes in Net Assets Net unrealized loss on investments of $356,116. For GAAP, we net investment management fees of $54,656 against investment income.

Form 990, Part XII, Line 2c Financial Statements and Reporting In 2011 we reconstituted our Finance Committee. We also selected a new independent auditor as we moved our financial management in-house. Our selection process consisted of a review of local firms with strong non-profit practices. We issued requests-for-proposals to seven firms. The proposals were received by a deadline and then ranked and rated. Management then recommended a firm to the Finance Committee based upon the rankings and ratings. The Finance Committee reviewed the recommendation and forwarded it to the board, who then approved the recommendation.

Regional Collaboration Pilot Program

Support for the field is of vital importance to the sustainability of Native arts and cultures practices across the board and has become the most significant of our strategies to develop meaningful assets amongst a strong cohort of regional partners. In 2011 our strategy was to increase our investment and deepen our involvement with partner organizations in developing the capacity of their operations and the quality of their respective programs.

We expect that the initiative will bring organizational leadership together to build synergies on a national stage, sharing best practices, and developing programming and advocacy strategies that best serve the field.

National Convening of Native Arts and Cultures Field

Convening the Native arts and cultures field is core to our mission. We gathered one hundred representatives of Native artist service organizations, cultural centers, museums, Native artists, musicians, writers, and educators from 25 states on November 4th and 5th in Portland, Oregon, for "Strengthening the Bones," our first convening of the Native arts and cultures field. The participants at this historic gathering represented the four directions and four corners of our diverse Native arts and cultures field. The convening had four primary objectives: to map and share individual strengths and priorities, to identify collective connections and energy, to identify strategies and action steps for supporting Native arts coalitions, and identify strategies and action steps for Native arts advocacy efforts. The two-day event included performances by Native artists, panel discussions, breakout sessions, and unique networking opportunities for attendees.

Code Expenses $522,585 including Grants $20,287 and Revenues $0

Advocacy for the Field

Advocacy for the field of Native Arts and Cultures throughout all fifty states through general support and representation is a significant part of our mission. Beyond our website and our publications, we achieved our objective in 2011 through attending field-specific conferences hosted by affiliate organizations such as Grant Makers in the Arts and Native Americans in Philanthropy, collaborative meetings with
