Part X, #2. The following is the Foundation's 2011 ASC 740 footnote.

The accounting standard on accounting for uncertainty in income taxes addresses the determination of whether tax benefits claimed or expected to be claimed on a tax return should be recorded in the financial statements. Under that guidance, the Foundation may recognize the tax benefit from an uncertain tax position only if it is more likely than not that the tax position will be sustained on examination by taxing authorities based on the technical merits of the position. Examples of tax positions include the tax-exempt status of the Foundation and various positions related to the potential sources of unrelated business taxable income. The tax benefits recognized in the financial statements from such a position are measured based on the largest benefit that has a greater than 50% likelihood of being realized upon ultimate settlement. There was no unrecognized tax benefits identified or recorded as liabilities for the years ended December 31, 2011 and 2010. The Foundation's information returns, for the years ending 2011, 2010, 2009, and 2008 are subject to examination by the IRS, generally for 3 years after they were filed.

Site visits are conducted annually by the Director and/or Chairman of the foundation with each Area Coordinator who is responsible for overseeing the feeding programs in his or her country. Each Area Coordinator has site coordinators who report back on each individual location where daily feedings take place. The Area Coordinators submit quarterly reports indicating product usage and provide photos and testimonials from the recipients.

The following criteria are applied to applications to determine if a program qualifies for Reliv Kalogris Foundation products and aid:

1. The program is endorsed by the Area Coordinator responsible for distribution of product.
2. The program has a direct nutritional impact.
3. There is a plan for sustainability once the program begins.
4. There is a plan in place and capacity for regular reporting and program development.

We determine the number of recipients through quarterly reporting from the Area Coordinators.
