Part II, Line 17a - 10% Facts and Circumstance Test - 2011

The Gainesville Community Foundation was established to create a permanent charitable endowment for Gainesville and the surrounding communities. Its purpose is to allow local citizens to make contributions to satisfy a broad range of changing charitable needs in our community.

There are now more than 700 such community foundations in the country. The mission of all community foundations is essentially the same: to promote philanthropy among individuals, organizations, and businesses and create a permanent endowment fund for the community in which they live. Community foundations are locally administered. They support health, social services, civic affairs, community development, historic preservation, art, conservation, and the environment in Gainesville and the surrounding communities.

Public Support Test

The Gainesville Community Foundation, Inc. (GCF) does not meet the one-third public support test. However, due to the nature of GCF we believe it is responsive to the general public rather than to a limited number of donors.

Treas. Reg. §1.170A-9(e)(10) recognizes that community foundations, also referred to as community trusts, are established to attract large contributions of a capital or endowment nature for the benefit of a particular community or area, and that such contributions come initially from a small number of donors. That being so, if the community foundation cannot meet the 33 1/3 percent-of-support test, it can still qualify as a public charity if it is organized and operated so as to attract new and additional public or governmental support on a continuous basis sufficient to meet the facts and circumstances test of paragraph (e)(3) of Treas. Reg. §1.170A-9.

In addition, Treas. Reg. §1.509(a)-3(a)(4) provides that the purpose of the one-third support test is to insure that an organization ... is responsive to the general public, rather than to the private interests of a limited number of donors or other persons.''

Treasury Regulation § 1.170A-9(e)

Treas. Reg. §1.170A-9(e)(3) provides that even if an organization fails to meet the 33 1/3 percent-of-support test, it will be treated as a "publicly supported" organization if it normally receives a substantial part of its support from governmental units, from direct or indirect contributions from the general public, or from a combination of these sources, and meets other requirements.

We believe GCF meets these other requirements as outlined below.

Ten Percent-of-Support Limitation

Treas. Reg. §1.170A-9(e)(3)(i) provides that the percentage of support received from the general public be "substantial." "Substantial" is defined as a total amount of public support which equals at least 10 percent of the total support ''normally'' received.

For the period at Form 990, Schedule A, Part IV-A, the amount of public support is 30 percent; therefore, a ''substantial'' amount.

Attraction of Public Support

Treas. Reg. §1.170A-9(c)(3)(ii) provides that an organization must be so organized and operated as to attract new and additional public or governmental support on a continuous basis.

One of the difficulties for GCF in meeting the public support test is the fact that our Board took great care to lay the groundwork for its perpetual existence. The initial Board consisted of 12 unrelated individuals from the community. The organization's seed capital consisted of small donations from Board members. From that we managed to create a website (www.gnvcf.org) to publicize the Gainesville Community Foundation.

Because one of the missions of community foundations is to assist other charitable organizations in the community, we were careful not to be seen as competing with other charitable organizations in our community, particularly with respect to fund raising. To that end we made a conscious choice not to hold, for example, public fundraisers that would compete with public fundraisers held by other charitable organizations in our community. Instead, Board members, who for the most part also serve on Boards of other charitable organizations, began a program to educate other charitable organizations as to our existence and our willingness to work with these other organizations. To that end, we made it clear that we were not trying to replace other charities. If a donor has a charitable intent that could be fulfilled through another organization, we would encourage the individual to support that organization. The Gainesville Community Foundation would instead provide for philanthropy supporting charitable projects and areas of interest not covered by already existing charities.

Treas. Reg. §1.170A-9(e)(10) provides that a community foundation is not required to engage in periodic, community-wide, fund-raising campaigns directed toward attracting a large number of small contributions in a manner similar to campaigns conducted by a community chest or united fund.

So our primary focus was (and still is) to educate the community about the benefits of a community foundation. We did this through our Board members in other ways. Primarily, individual Board members met with influential people in the community to explain the mission of the Gainesville Community Foundation. This was and is done on a methodical basis. First, a list of all potential donors was created. It was then divided into individuals and companies. Next, Board members who were familiar with the individuals or companies were assigned, usually in teams of two, to have lunch or breakfast with them. We realized that one lunch or breakfast would not necessarily produce a check. We did not want to solicit small donations, as we felt this might be seen as competing with local fundraising, such as United Way. So we speak with potential donors about major gifts benefiting Gainesville and the surrounding communities. This is a long-term educational process, which we believe will result in a far stronger and more resilient community foundation for the future,

We also assist other nonprofit agencies. By doing so, we will create goodwill in the community, which in turn should bring broad public support for Gainesville Community Foundation. Some examples are provided below:

The Women's Giving Circle. The Women's Giving Circle an initiative of the Gainesville Community Foundation which begun in 2007 was established to promote charitable giving to programs which support women and girls in Alachua County. Each member contributes $1,000 annually. In the first four years the Women's Giving Circle grew to 96 members and granted more than $350,000 to local programs benefiting women and girls. The recipients of these grants include Girl Scouts of Gateway Council, Girls Club of Alachua County, Catholic Charities Bureau, Peaceful Paths, Take Stock in Children, Displaced Homemakers Program and Pace Center for Girls.

Kincaid Loop Neighborhood Fund. The purpose of this Fund is to pay for the construction, operation, or maintenance of capital facilities and to support activities to improve the community in the area of the Kincaid Loop which is affected by operation of the Florence Landfill. Currently the Kincaid Loop Committee is researching methods to help manage the increasing problem of invasive exotic (non-native) plants in the neighborhood. Invasive exotics are altering native plant communities by displacing native species, changing community structures or ecological functions, or hybridizing with natives.

Friends of Tacachale Fund. Tacachale is a Florida State Agency for Persons with Disabilities residential center. More than 470 adult men and women, with varying developmental disabilities live in homes on the 550-acre campus in east Gainesville.

The Friends of Tacachale Fund, which was established in 2007, benefits the quality of life for all who live at Tacachale. The fund distributions may be used for items such as holiday gifts, new athletic equipment, or participation in the Special Olympics

The Friends of the Alachua County Public Schools Elementary Arts & Music Programs. In 2008, local elementary schools faced budget cuts that reduced their art and music programs by 50 percent. This fund was created by a group of retired teachers in response to the cuts in an effort to support and enhance local elementary art and music programs not covered by tax dollars. More than $80,000 was raised by many local citizens and in the first year, each of the 25 elementary schools in Alachua County received $2,000 to benefit their arts and music programs.

Philip Clark Memorial Fund. The Community Foundation also worked to receive a small fund known as the Philip Clark Memorial Fund. Through this Fund, we will provide scholarships to ROTC students who graduate from Buchholz High School.

So our slow, methodical approach has worked. Due to our efforts at publicity, and especially due to many meetings by Board members with potential donors, GCF received two substantial gifts in the past two years, which have prevented us from meeting the 33 1/3 percent support test. These donations are listed below:

Peaceful Paths

In October 2011, the Community Foundation received a gift of $967,500 to establish the Peaceful Paths Advancement Fund. The purpose of the fund was to purchase land for the domestic violence program in order to expand their current facility and build transitional housing for their participants.

Matheson Museum Fund

In December 2010, upon the referral from a local advisor, an anonymous donor established an endowed fund to benefit the Matheson Museum. The donor gifted $500,000 at the time of the fund creation and pledged an additional $500,000 to follow in 2011, bringing the total fund to $1 million. The pledge was recorded as a receivable at the close of 2010 and the pledge was fulfilled in 2011.

Treas. Reg. §1.170A-9(e)(3)(10) provides that the requirement for attraction of public support for a community foundation will be generally satisfied if the community foundation seeks gifts and bequests from a wide range of potential donors in the community, through banks or trust companies, through attorneys or other professional persons, or in other appropriate ways which call attention to the community foundation as a potential recipient of gifts and bequests made for the benefit of the community or area served.

In this respect, the Gainesville Community Foundation has established the Professional Advisor Council, whose mission is to promote philanthropy among citizens of Gainesville, Florida. This council consists of professionals with expertise in tax law, estate planning, accounting, investment, financial planning, wealth management, insurance and family foundations. Members of the council will share the common objectives of promoting philanthropy in our area and helping taxpayers achieve their philanthropic goals.

In addition, several board members are also members of the Gainesville Estate Planning Council. Part of the initial impetus to form the Gainesville Community Foundation came from the Estate Planning Council, which recognized the need for such a foundation in our community. Current Board members - Tony Kendzior, Wes Marston, W.J. Rossi and Richard White - are attorneys or professionals who regularly call the attention of clients and members of the Gainesville Estate Planning Council to the work of the Gainesville Community Foundation.

Given the above, we feel we maintain a continuous and bona fide program for solicitation of public funds from the general public or community, and that the scope of our fundraising activities is reasonable in light of our charitable activities pursuant to Treas. Reg. §1.170A-9(e)(3)(ii).

Factors in Considering Public Support

Treas. Reg. § 1.170A-9(e)(3)(ii) provides that factors relevant to each case and the weight accorded to any of them may differ depending upon the nature and purpose of the organization and the length of time it has been in existence.

Percentage of Financial Support

Treas. Reg. § 1.170A-9(e)(3)(iii) states that the higher the percentage of support above the 10 percent requirement, the lesser the burden of establishing the publicly supported nature of the organization through other factors. We believe it relevant that in the first three years of the Gainesville Community Foundation, it would have met the 33 1/3 public support test, and that only a few large gifts in years 4, 5 and 8 caused the Gainesville Community Foundation to have less than 33 1/3 percent public support. We would also like to point out that our public support percentage has been rising as follows:

2001-2004	12%	2004-2007	21%
2002-2005	13%	2004-2008	28%
2003-2006	19%	2005-2009	30%
2006-2010	30%	2007-2011	30%

Sources of Support

Treas. Reg. §1.170A-9(e)(3)(iv) provides for taking into account that support is from a representative number of persons rather than from the members of a single family. In fact, all of the large gifts discussed above were received are from unrelated donors whose contributions were solicited by members of the Board of the Gainesville Community Foundation.

Other Funds received by the Organization

In addition to helping individuals reach their personal goals for charitable giving, the foundation also strives to help other not-for-profits reach philanthropic objectives. Beginning in 2007, the Corporation entered into agreements to hold and invest funds for specified organizations. Amounts provided by the specified organizations and held by the Corporation are accounted for as agency funds payable and are not reflected in the numerator or denominator of the public support calculation. The Agencies and their account balances at December 31, 2011 are listed below. If these amounts were included in the numerator and denominator, the public support percentage would be in excess of 33.3%

Alachua County Public Schools Foundation	272,908

Representative Governing Body

Treas. Reg. §1.170A-9(e)(3)(v) provides for taking into account that the governing body represents the broad interests of the public, rather than the personal or private interests of a limited number of donors. The current directors of the Gainesville Community Foundation are listed on the Form 990, Part V-A. The bios of the following board members illustrate the type of individuals involved in GCF.

Ester Tibbs, District 3 Administrator (Recently Retired) - Florida Department of Children and Families

Ester has worked for with the Fl. Dept. of Children & Families for over 30 years and served as the District 3 Administrator since 1995. Ester's life as a community leader is full and productive as well. For more than 12 years she has served on both the boards of the Alachua County Girls Club and the Untied Way of North Central Florida. She also serves on the boards of Shands Hospital, the Alachua County Healthy Communities Initiative, the Altrusa Club, and Oak Hammock (the University of Florida's retirement community).

Portia L. Taylor, Vice President for Student Affairs - Santa Fe College (a public college of the State of Florida)
Portia is also the current chair of the Council of Student Affairs that represents vice presidents, deans, and directors of student affairs for all of Florida's 28 community colleges. She is a member and past president of University of Florida's Performing Arts Center Board of Directors and is a founding member and former vice president of Black AIDS Services and Education. She is a member and past president for the Women's Forum of Gainesville, and in 2003 she was awarded a Lifetime Achievement Award by the Girl Scouts of Gateway Council.

Marilyn Tubb, Vice President for Community Relations -- Santa Fe College (a public college of the State of Florida)
Known throughout the Southeast and nationally as a champion for health and wellness, Marilyn has spearheaded dozens of acclaimed community initiatives and helped lead a multitude of civic and not-for-profit organizations. Marilyn is past chair of Gainesville Community Foundation and the Gainesville Area Chamber of Commerce and is a current member and former chair of the Gainesville-Alachua County Regional Airport Authority. She chairs the Alachua County Economic Development Advisory. Marilyn was founder and coordinator for the Alachua County Healthy Community Initiative, a citizens 'think tank' for addressing community issues and promoting a strong economy, social justice, environmental issues and education. She was one of 40 people nationwide to receive a fellowship to study national programs on community health and consequently served as co-chair of the Gainesville Well City USA Campaign.

The remaining members represent a broad cross-section of the views and interests of the community or have special knowledge or expertise helpful to the Gainesville Community Foundation.

Availability of Public Services

Treas. Reg. §1.170A-9(e)(3)(vi) provides for taking into account that the organization maintains a definitive program to accomplish its charitable work in the community. The following examples illustrate how GCF provides public services.

Gainesville High School. It will continue to fund various programs at Gainesville High School.

Sponsorship of Events. GCF serves as a convener of other charitable agencies. For example, the Gainesville Community Foundation recently sponsored a educational symposium for local nonprofit staffs and boards. GCF also hosted a continuing education course for local advisors on upcoming changes in estate planning.

Additional Factors: Appealing to Persons Having Common Interest

Treas. Reg. §1.170A-9(e)(3)(vii), subsections (a) and (b), provide that the following should be considered:

"solicitation for dues-paying members is designed to enroll a substantial number of persons in the community.

"dues for individual members have been fixed at rates designed to make membership available to a broad cross-section of the interested public.

Part IV Supplemental Information. Complete this part to provide the explanations required by Part II, line 10; Part II, line 17a or 17b; and Part III, line 12. Also complete this part for any additional information. (See instructions).

In this regard, the Women's Giving Circle (discussed above and repeated here), an initiative of the Gainesville Community Foundation began in 2007, was established to promote charitable giving to programs which support women and girls in Alachua County. Each member contributes $1,000. In the first two years the Women's Giving Circle grew to 96 members and has now granted more than $350,000 in grants to local programs benefiting women and girls. The recipients of these grants include the following 501(c)(3) organizations: Girls Scouts of Gateway Council, Girls Club of Alachua County, Catholic Charities Bureau, Peaceful Paths, Take Stock in Children, Displaced Homemakers Program and Pace Center for Girls.

Another of these factors is whether the activities of the organization will be likely to appeal to persons having some broad common interest or purpose. GCF qualifies in this respect. The broad common interest is the desire to improve the quality of life through philanthropy in our community. The Gainesville Community Foundation appeals either to those who have been life-long residents of the community, or who have adopted the community for their own, and have commitment to its nurturing.
